Masons Install New Slate

WABUSH (Staff) - The Northern Lights Lodge No. 8022 E.C., Wabush - Labrador City, held the formal dedication of the new Masonic Temple and installation of officers June 17. The dedication ceremonies were conducted by Right Worshipful Brother James Arklie, P.G. D. district Grand Master. He was assisted by Worshipful Brothers Arthur G. Dewling, J. Gordon Barnes, Cyril V. LeMessurier, A.B. Berg, F.M. Rowe, Wilfred G. Moore, Ralph J. Noel and Archdale S. Lewis.

Masonic church service was held Sunday morning at the United Church, Labrador City with the sermon preached by Rev. Steve Collins. In the evening, the lodge placed a wreath at the war memorial.

Sunday night a banquet was held at the Ashuanipi Social Club. Guest speaker was the Minister of Public Works, Hon. J. R. Chalker.

Among the many distinguished guests here for the dedication were His Honour, the Lieutenant Governor of Newfoundland, R.W. Brother E. John A. Harnum; Major Sir Ronald Orr Ewing, Grand Master Mason and R. W. Brother Dr. A.F. Buchan, M.B.E., grand secretary.

The distinguished visitors, during their stay, were taken on tours of the mining sights and other points of interest.

New officers for the coming year are: Worshipful Master, R.J. Attersley; Senior Warden, A.L. Hoskins; Junior Warden, J. Grant; Senior Deacon, D. Selleck; Junior Deacon, A. Bradshaw; Innerguard, D. Hume; Senior Steward, J. Sumner; Junior Steward, H. Lannaghan; Chaplain, C. Wilson; Director of Ceremonies, N. Sherren; Immediate Past Master, G. Hawe; Secretary, G. Newell; Treasurer, R. White and Tyler, D. Robertson.

Chairman for Sunday night's banquet was Nelson Sherran who introduced Mr. Chalker.

Mr. Chalker told his audience the ecumenical is certainly evident in Labrador West considering the church service which took place in a church shared jointly by the United Church and Anglican faiths. He said for the first time he had seen the movement in action. He referred to the sermon preached by Rev. Stephen Collins as possibly, the best he had ever heard on Masonry.

He said that from his observations, everything in Labrador West was new including its people. Mr. Chalker foresaw a great future. He felt the wealth of the area is yet to be scratched, bearing in mind of course, the enormous industrial development which has already taken place.

"Who knows that maybe some day the smelting of ore in the area may be done by the hydro power from the mighty Churchill Falls."

Speaking on the controversial road question, he said he saw that residents are isolated in a way.

He said "the subject has been brought up at cabinet meetings on numerous occasions. Should the provincial government build the road to meet the Quebec border, will the government of that province build their 150 miles or so immediately?" He didn't think so.

He foresaw in the future a road stretching from Goose Bay to Montreal, a channel across the straits of Bell Isle.

The construction of the road from Goose Bay to Wabush has been slowed up because of the money situation, said Mr. Chalker. He said that if the money situation was not as acute as it is, there would be no layoffs here as the materials could have been transported by road surface vehicles.

"Eventually," said Mr. Chalker, "the area will be completely open to the outside in the not too distant future. These things will be done but it will take time and patience."

Mr. Chalker then spoke briefly on the role of free Masonry in our society. One of the outstanding effects of the movement is respect for the law. Masons, he said, are expected to be of good behaviour at all times and respect the laws of the land at every level of government.

He said that in such times of labor difficulties in this industrial area the practice of brotherhood is a must. We must also see that our principles are practiced in every day life.

The event concluded with Bro. George Hawe extending the vote of thanks to the speaker and greetings to the lodge from the Right Worshipful District Grand Master of England, Brother J. Arklie.

FOODS AND BEVERAGES.

The number of companies grouped under foods and beverages is large and their operations are quite varied so that a general comment on the near to medium-term outlook would be misleading. Accordingly, each write-up simply outlines indicated prospects and provides a buy, hold or switch recommendation.

B.C. PACKERS. Poor salmon runs are predicted for 1969, and thus profits are likely to be lower. However, with the company's continuing diversification in the fisheries field and its aggressive marketing of a broad line of convenience foods tending to lessen previous cyclical tendencies, the shares may be held for worthwhile income and medium-term growth potential.

C & D SUGAR. Cost reductions from closing of the Chatham beet sugar refinery, plus successful diversification into meats and plastics extrusions boosted 1968 income by 25 percent. Plans have been announced for a 40 percent expansion of capacity at the Toronto refinery, while a plastics extrusion plant is planned for Calgary. Earnings in 1969 are unlikely to rise at the 1968 rate, but with the new capacity available in 1970, good, medium-term profit gains are indicated. Hold.

CANADA PACKERS. Profits for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1968 made a substantial recovery from strike depressed 1967, but due to intensified competition in food marketing, sales and profit growth has been at a more moderate rate this year. Partial profit-taking was recommended at higher levels, at current levels, holdings should be retained for medium-term recovery.

CANADIAN BREWERIES. With rationalization of operations leading to a temporary increase in operating costs, share earnings for the 12 months could show little improvement from last year's 62c. With the indicated offer from Philip Morris being for only around 50 percent of outstanding stock, and the $12 price undervaluing medium-term recovery potential, commitments should not be retained pending further developments.

CRUSH INTERNATIONAL. The company holds a strong position in orange and root beer flavoured soft drinks in the U.S. market as well as in Canada, and franchise sales in the important U.S. market have been recording increases above the national average. Earnings gained almost 14 percent in 1968 and with a further substantial gain indicated for 1969. Commitments should be fully maintained.

DISTILLERS-SEAGRAMS. A favourable product mix in the all-important U.S. market plus increasing penetration of foreign markets provides appreciable potential for continued earnings growth, and almost 14 percent in 1968 and with further substantial gain indicated for 1969. Commitments should be fully maintained. However with the current multiple anticipating near-term progress, purchases could be deferred.

JOHN LABATT. The company's beer sales rose 6.7 percent for the nine-month period, against 0.4 percent for the industry, while net profit rose 22 percent. Parallel with this strong trend for its brewing operations. LaBatts is continuing its programme of diversification into the food industry, with the acquisition of Mannings, a San Francisco-based food service firm, and holdings should be fully maintained.

MAPLE LEAF MILLS. Earnings dipped 2 cents per share in the half-year, but with some of the pressure on prices of grocery products having eased, a small upturn is estimated for the year. Although further attrition in overseas sales can be anticipated, the diversified nature of other operations, plus new cost control programmes should lead to earnings maintaining a conservative uptrend over the medium term, justifying retention of holdings for income.

MOLSON INDUSTRIES. While the benefits of Anthes merger are apparently being delayed, there should be a more positive contribution in 1969-70 and purchases are recommended. The "A" shares are worthwhile position for those wishing to combine income and capital growth, while the class "C" is better suited to those in high tax brackets, due to the tax-free stock dividends.

SILVERWOOD DAIRIES. Earnings for the nine months rose to $1.14 per "A" and "B" share, against the $1.20 of the previous year, with the greater part of this growth reflecting consolidation of Mac's Milk into the Silverwood report. With earnings from these convenience stores continuing to rise, the outlook is increasingly favourable and purchases of the class "A" stock continues to be recommended for medium-term appreciation.

WALKER G & W. Generally strong economic conditions in the company's principal markets, and the strong position of Walker's brands in those markets have been reflected in a continuing high rate of profit growth. Thus, with market over-reacting to the still unresolved U.S. tax claim, and earning projected to rise $2.75 per share or better, purchases are recommended for appreciation and dividend improvement over the medium-term.

GEORGE WESTON. With major portions of 1967 and 1968 earnings arising from sales of British holdings, 1969 returns will be lower. However, with the trend toward consolidation of operating subsidiaries providing potential for improved margins, the outlook favours accelerated profit growth over the medium term, and commitments may be accumulated on weakness.

Annual graduation exercises held at NDA

Labrador City (Staff) - The annual graduation exercises and presentation of awards of Notre Dame Academy here took place June 17, under the distinguished patronage of His Excellency, Most Rev. Bishop Henri Legare, OMI., bishop of Schefferville-Labrador.

The event marked the sixth year of Catholic education in Labrador City.

Total student population of NDA for the past year was 701 made up of 347 boys, 354 girls. There were 213 French students and 488 English students.

When the school initially opened in 1963, student enrollment was 245. The faculty has shown a steady increase since then and now numbers 40, for a pupil-teacher ratio of 17.5.

Patrick Congdon told the Aurora that the present building contains 32 rooms including gym, library, offices, faculty room etc. He said a new building will be added to the present facilities this summer to give Notre Dame Academy an additional 20 rooms, of which six will be specialists rooms. Cost of the new addition will be approximately $800,000.

He said construction could be hampered by the current labor situation and if not settled in the immediate future could cause difficulties in the school's operation.

In his year-end report, Mr. Congdon said curriculum is constantly under review, updated on the basis of teachers recommendations and approved by the principal and the department of Education.

Notre Dame Academy, which houses students from kindergarten to grade eight, will introduce one outstanding change in lower grade teaching next year with the introduction of a whole language arts program as one unit. There will also be the implementation of the religious program "Come to the Father" which resulted from the deliberations of the Vatican Council. In this connection, Bishop LeGare has announced the appointment of Rev. Father Proulx, OMI to co-ordinate religious teaching in the diocese.

There will also be curriculum changes in the school's French section with the introduction of the Sablier Methode, a language program and also Colas Methode - a new modern math program.

This year 586 students wrote examinations and 569 obtained a pass. The former figure does not include kindergarten which is composed of five classes. There were 17 failures. Mr. Congdon said he was very pleased with the overall results.

Master of ceremonies for the graduation ceremonies was Claude Lataille, B. A., vice-principal at NDA. The invocation was carried out by Rev. Father J. LaPerriere, OMI and the salutatory address by Kathleen Plue. Bishop LeGare presented diplomas and the presentation of special awards was made by B. M. Monaghan, mine manager for the Iron Ore Company of Canada in Labrador City.

Special awards included: Bishop Scheffer Memorial Award for Excellence in Religion (Donated by the Rev. Dr. Whelan Council, K. of C. - Arlene Lannon $25.00.

Mathematics Award (Donated by the Ashuanipi Club) - Richard Timmons $25.00.

The valedictory was given by Arlene Lannon. The program also included a number of renditions by the school choir.

Principal pleased with exam results

Wabush (Staff) - According to the principal of the Sacred Heart Section of the J.R. Smallwood Collegiate here, Joseph Rousseau, his students from Grades one to 10 did exceptionally well in the final examinations which concluded recently. He says he's very pleased over the overall outcome.

Of the 269 writing papers, 259 obtained passes for an overall pass percentage of 96 percent.

Mr. Rousseau stated that of the 10 failures, three will write supplementary exams in August and the remaining seven will be repeaters.

Grade 11 students at the collegiate began writing public examinations June 19 and concluded today. Twenty-eight are writing the exams and another nine will be writing commercial.

Mr. Rousseau said his section has a complete roster of teachers for the 1969-70 school year. Of the staff of 25 last year, here will be 16 returning and there will be 10 additions. Eleven of the 16 returning teachers will be attending universities across Canada and in the U.S. this summer, on school board summer grants.

The Sacred Heart Section has also obtained the services of a religious education specialist who will co-ordinate and act as a resource person. "Come to the Father", the newest series in the Catholic education program, will also be added.

The Catholic section next year will have a total staff of 28. Of the new additions, seven are from the island, two from Quebec, one from Nova Scotia and one from Ireland.

A special class (junior high) will be established to help students overcome deficiencies in their educational background. The curriculum will be set to the needs of the students. Efforts are to be undertaken to introduce a complete tract system in the 1970-71 school year consisting of academic and general studies. The academic is for students entering university and general for those who may be entering vocational or technical school.

Mr. Rousseau said it is hoped to further integrate the central section of the school which is administered jointly by the principal of the Amalgamated and Catholic sections. He said both principals are aiming to further integrate the maths program.

Among other areas of the school curriculum, the central section offers joint studies in Art, Physical Education, Industrial Arts, Home Economics, Music, Science and Commercial.

The only apparent problem at the school as a whole, said Mr. Rousseau is that of space.

He said that due to the current labor situation and the unavailability of building and construction materials, it is unlikely that the new extension to JRS will be completed before November, the target date.

The extension, when completed, will consist of 16 rooms, eight for each section and will cost in the vicinity of $750,000. Meanwhile, all possible space will be utilized.

Amalgamated section

215 Students successful at Smallwood Collegiate

WABUSH (Staff)—Another principal of a school in Wabush expressed his satisfaction over examination results of his students held during the past week.

Domino Howse, principal of the Amalgamated section of J.R. Smallwood Collegiate said 220 pupils in grades two to 10 wrote examinations of which 215 were successful.

Total student population of the Amalgamated section is 323 including kindergarten, grade 11 and commercial students.

Some 23 students in grade 11 and commercial class are writing public examinations.

Joint graduation exercises of the Amalgamated and Roman Catholic sections will be held in September when diplomas, scholarships and other awards will be made. Mr. Howse said this year's results compared favorably with the previous year. He said during the past year there were 27 teachers on his staff and plans to have 30 teachers next year. Two teachers will be returning from sabbatical leave and another extra high school teacher will be employed.

Looking forward to next year, Mr. Howse says the amalgamated school boards of Labrador City and Wabush integrated to form the Labrador West Amalgamated School board. He said this is in concurrence with the department of Education's plan to integrate school boards where possible.

R.V. Martin will be the supervisory principal for the amalgamated schools in the area and will oversee the schools' operations. His duties will be similar to those of a superintendent of education in larger boards in the province.

Mr. Howse said there will be no drastic changes in curriculum for the coming school year other than those proposed by the department of Education.

Mr. Howse resigned as principal of the amalgamated section. He moves to Gander to take up the position as a supervisor of elementary and primary schools with the Terra Nova Integrated School Board.

Mr. Howse's teaching career spans some 22 years with the Salvation Army School Board. Before coming to Wabush in 1962, as the first principal of the Amalgamated Section of JRS, he spent four years at Middle Brook, Gambo and two years as a supervisor with the department of Education, Botwood division.

He said when he first came to Wabush his section had five teachers and 28 students from grades one to nine. The school was located at 27-29 Grenfell Drive and was shared with the Roman Catholic student population with five class rooms each. The school, as it now stands, was completed in September of 1964. The $3,000,000 structure was completely financed by Wabush Mines. Mr. Howse has been principal of the amalgamated section every year since J.R. Smallwood Collegiate opened its doors, with the exception of 1967, when he was absent on sabbatical leave.

He was asked what his feelings were on system at JRS. He said such types of institutions depend on the good will and general agreement of the principals of each section. "I don't advocate this type of arrangement from the administrative point of view."

He said that if such institutions are to exist, there would have to be only one principal and two vice-principals, one for the Roman Catholic and one for the Amalgamated section, if separation is desirable.

Ideally, said Mr. Howse, there should be one public school with no distinctions between religions.

Mr. Howse said he has enjoyed his stay at Wabush and felt sorry to leave but he was looking forward to his new position. He took the opportunity to express his thanks to his many friends in Labrador West for the co-operation and kindnesses afforded to himself and his family.

He is married to the former Audrey Legge, RN of Corner Brook whose parents are retired Salvation Army officers.

In his six-year tenure at Wabush, Mr. Howse was active with the Salvation Army and was a member of the band in Labrador City.

He was also very active in the community being vice-chairman of the CNIB, vice-chairman of the board of Captain William Jackman Memorial Hospital, the Red Cross, Red Shield and board member also of the Co-op movement.

Ballet classes end for season

Wabush (Staff) - In October, children's ballet opened at the Wabush Recreation Centre with an enrollment of 47 children between the ages of four and thirteen. A short time after, this was extended to include teens and adult classes.

The classes were under the direction of Mrs. Grace Ambler of Wabush.

Jacques Foesier, Ontario president of the Canadian Dance Teachers Association, visited the area in February for the purpose of evaluating progress of students and acted as guest teacher for the week. He is particularly interested in the work being done here, having been instrumental in Mrs. Ambler's opening of the school and expressed his satisfaction with results obtained in such a short time.

With the commencement of the spring term, popular demand brought about separate class for adults and two additional classes for the four to nine age group. Enrollment totalled 75, most of whom attained 90 percent attendance record for the year. During the final term, which just concluded, new students were taught rudimentary ballet movements while second term students advanced.

To give parents an opportunity to see their children in action, class demonstrations were held. Mrs. Ambler leaves for Toronto, July 8 for further work with Mr. and Mrs. Foesier. Registration dates for the fall term will be announced on her return.

Plans are in progress to recommence in September and it is hoped that the coming year will be even more successful than the last.

Passenger traffic increasing

Wabush (Staff) - Since the start of layoffs by Wabush Mines about a month ago and more recently by the Iron Ore Company of Canada, Eastern Provincial Airways has handled an average of 75 passengers per flight with 80 percent or about 60 passengers either employees or employees and their families laid off by both companies during the current labor dispute.

Since May 15, the airline has flown 2,147 passengers to points on the island. A spokesman said that of this number, 80 percent or over 1,700 is made up of single employees laid off or married employees laid off and their families.

The biggest single day for the period was May 28 when EPA accommodated 249 passengers. On this particular occasion, the airline utilized the services of a Dart Herald, Carvair and their new Boeing 737 jet.

The spokesman said that if the rumoured layoff at the Iron Ore Company of Canada operation came off on schedule, EPA expects to be booked for the following 10 days.

He said then there's the regular summer traffic which is usually heavy this time of year. The coming weeks are expected to be busy ones for EPA.

YOU ARE THE DETECTIVE

Upon your arrival at the little suburban home, you find Sheriff Joe Summers standing in the living room beside the body of Arnold Fuller. You note the bullet hole in the victim's right temple, and the small pearl-handled gun lying on the floor next to him.

"His housekeeper, Mrs. Ruth Harris, phoned me," says Summers. "Told me she found him like this when she arrived here this morning. She lives with her husband about five miles from here, and has been arriving here every morning in time to cook Fuller's breakfast for him. He's a bachelor. She says she knows of no reason at all why he should have shot himself. I've looked into her alibi... time of arrival, and so forth... she checks out. And there are only his fingerprints on the gun. So, it looks like suicide, all right."

"Has he any relatives?" you ask. "Only a brother, John Fuller, who's married and lives in the other end of town. I tried to phone him, but no answer. He and Arnold here were law partners, and I'd appreciate it if you would stop in at his office when you get back to town."

Twenty minutes later you enter John Fuller's law office and tell him, "I have some very sad news for you. Your brother... he's dead. Apparent suicide."

John Fuller looks at you with a stunned expression on his face. "What... I can't believe it!"

"It's true," you say. "I've just come from his home. I'm wondering if you can tell me any reason why your brother should have taken his life."

"No... not offhand. Of course, he was despondent at times... made much of the fact that I'm so happily married and that he has never been able to find the right woman for himself. He often said it seemed so useless for him to be working so hard and making so much money just for himself." Fuller pauses, then goes on musingly, "It does seem especially strange that Arnie picked the way he did to do away with himself. He was always so fearful of guns... knew nothing about them... never so far as I know even touched one. It's really paradoxical. I wonder why..."

"I'm beginning to wonder, too," you break in. "I'm wondering if this was suicide at all. I think you had better accompany me to headquarters for some intensive questioning!"

Why?

SOLUTION

How did John Fuller know that the death instrument was a gun? No mention of a gun had been made up to the time that John, himself, introduced the subject!

Summer recreation program begins June 27

Wabush (Staff) - The Wabush summer recreation program swings into action June 27 with a teenage dance in the recreation centre at 9 p.m. The dance will mark the beginning of a very elaborate and interesting program. Music for the dance will be provided by the Chevelles and admission is one dollar.

The program itself, will cost the participants nothing, with the exception of a 25 cent registration fee. Registration forms may be obtained from the Rec Centre office (upstairs in room 2) or from one of the playground supervisors. Deadline for the return of forms is today, June 26.

The town has been very fortunate in securing the services of Miss Joyce Noel, a lecturer in physical education at Memorial University as this year's program director.

Miss Noel is no stranger to the area since she taught for two years at the Labrador City Collegiate. Her home town is Gander.

She will be assisted by three other residents of Wabush.

Patrick Doyle, a second year student at Memorial University in Physical Education, will look after softball, baseball, soccer etc.

Patty Boulet also a second year Physical Education student at Memorial will be responsible for the "fun time" program for children between the ages of five and eight.

Miss Helen O'Leary, a Grade 11 student at J R Smallwood Collegiate, will look after the tennis program and other duties.

Listed below are the various day to day events for the duration of the program.

Along with the teenage dance, some of the other special events of the calendar include, Saturday, June 28, best decorated tricycle and bicycle contest. The show will be held on the Rec Centre parking lot at 10:30 a.m. for boys and girls eight years and under; at 2:30 p.m. for boys and girls nine years and up; July 5, track and field meet; July 12, best decorated doll and carriage show; July 19, go-cart show; July 26, art and handicraft competition; August 9, swim meet and August 16, a grand variety show.

this week in ASTROLOGY

BY CARL PAYNE TOBEY

PAST

THE ORIGINAL ASTROLOGY

The word "astronomy" did not come into existence until after 500 A.D. Yet, selective history constantly refers to astronomers of the Middle East and other parts of the world. There were none. There were only astrologers. The original word "astrology" had a much broader meaning, akin to the word "science" today. The original "astrology" included such subjects as mathematics, medicine, surgery, psychology, biology, philosophy and some religion in a bit of a morphological approach. They tried to consider the whole of Man rather than his specific parts, and this included his consciousness.

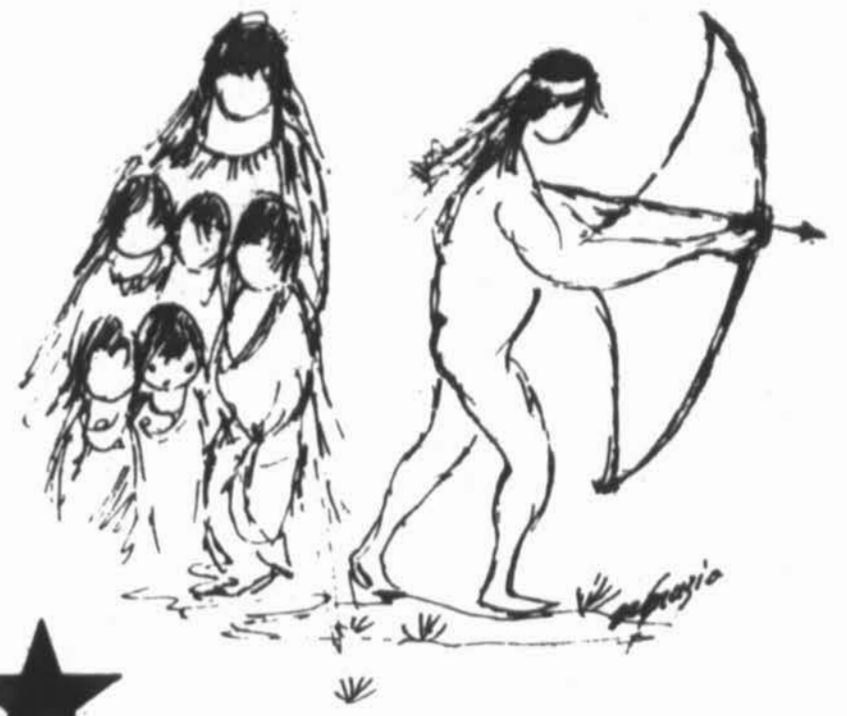

THE VIRGO WOMAN

Usually industrious if not emotionally upset. She makes a good secretary or school-teacher. She wants to be a part of society and tries to adhere to customs. Thus, she was portrayed as the Virgin. But as customs change she too can change, and can conform to the new customs, whatever they may be. New customs leave less place for the virgins. She usually dresses well, but she can be a worker.

PRESENT

TOBEY'S PREDICTION:

From now through mid-July, a somewhat disruptive period is developing for those born from December 1897, through November 1898, April through July 1919, January through March 1920, September 1920, through January 1921, and June 1942, through April 1943. It is not harmonious for intimate relationships such as marriage. It is jittery and unconventional as well as somewhat accident prone. Small children born August 1962 into early October 1962, and February through July 1963, should be protected against accidents and other mishaps.

- ♓ PISCES Feb. 19-Mar. 20
Conditions improving for you all week, but next week can be more opportune for taking initiative.

DOES THE MOON EXERT ANY 'PULL?'

If the moon exerted a "pull" on the tides, we might expect a steady flow of ocean water from east to west, for the moon moves across our sky from east to west. All ocean currents flow in the opposite direction, from west to east. At both ends of the American continents, water flows from the Pacific into the Atlantic. (Credit Hugh Auchincloss Brown for noting this.) All we know is that the interval of time between high and low tide is the same as it requires for the earth to turn under the moon. What is the significance of these facts? (Continued.)
