Nancy Greene on her arrival here last Friday, to have a first hand look at the facilities available at the Smokey Mountain Ski Lodge, Smokey Mountain will host the Canadian Ski Championships, March 21st and 22nd next year, along with the Atlantic Division Finals which will also be held at Smokey Mountain, March 14th and 15th. Shown greeting Nancy and her husband Joe Raine, are Bob Croke, Professional Ski Instructor (l) and Bill Archer, President of Smokey Mountain Ski Club (second from left) - (Aurora Photo)

Nancy Greene visits Labrador City, Wabush

On Friday, September 26, the Smokey Mountain Ski Club at Labrador City was honored by a visit from Nancy Greene Raine, winner of the Ladies' World Cup in 1967 and 1968 and her husband Al Raine, Head Coach of the National Ski Team. It will be on the slopes of Smokey Mountain that the Canadian Championships in Slalom and Giant Slalom will be held next March. This marks the first time that a National Ski Event will be held in Labrador or any other part of Newfoundland.

Mr. and Mrs. Raine inspected the hills and lifts by Helicopter and Bombardier. Upon completion of her inspection Nancy stated that she was very impressed with the installation and felt that although the hill has only 1000 feet of vertical drop, it does have nice variation of steep and flat portions and that by virtue of good course settings with two runs of Slalom and two runs of giant Slalom it would certainly present a challenge worthy of a Canadian Championship.

She also confirmed that the national "A" and "B" teams would be in attendance at these championships and would be travelling directly to Labrador upon completion of the Pontiac cup races which will be held at Bromont in mid March.

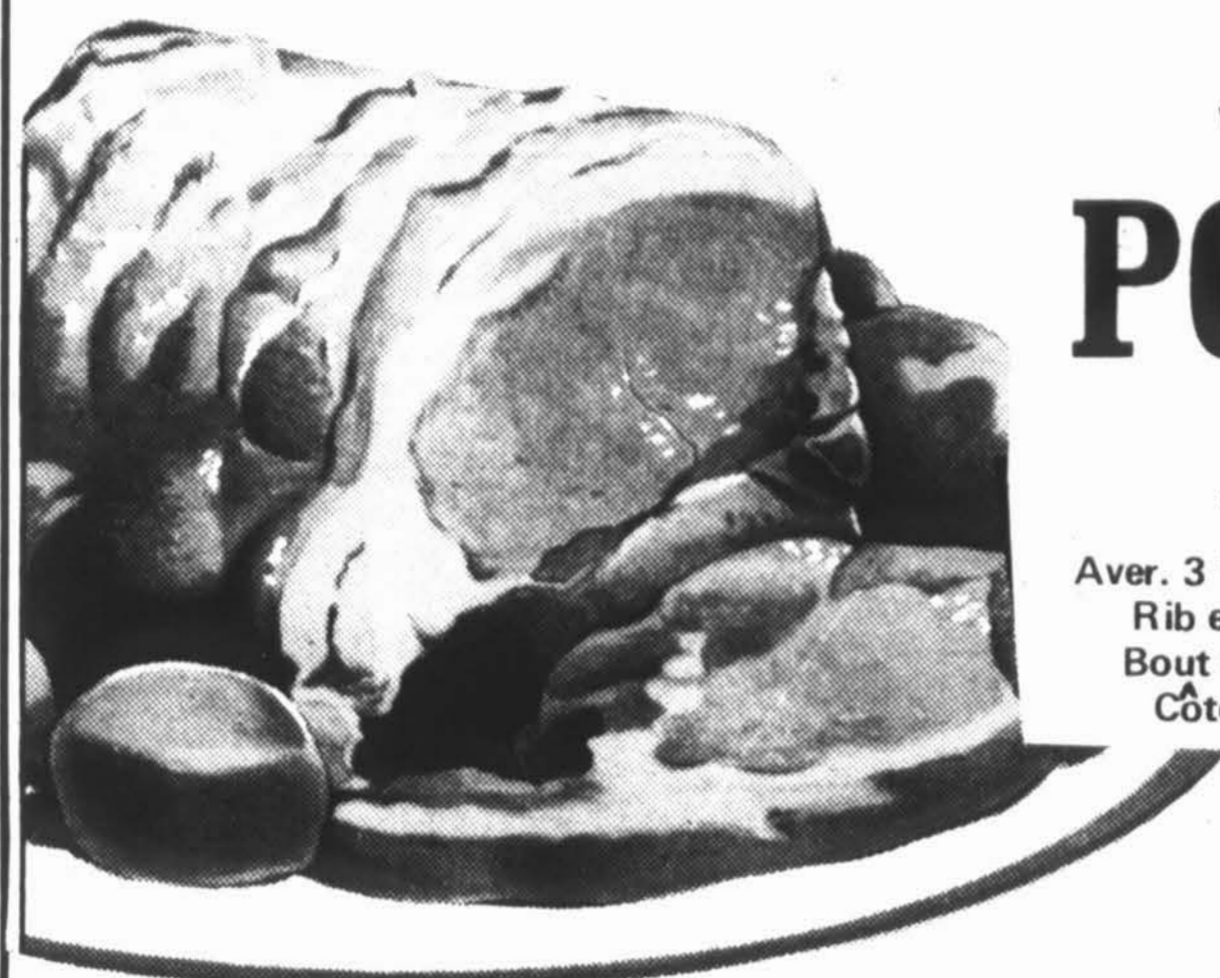

Nancy further stated that although the National Team is oriented towards international competition, we should expect to see them hit their peak at these Canadian Championship races, and that they would probably be fighting harder to win these races than any other race thru the year.

In addition to the Canadian national team, invitations are also being sent to the U.S. National A and B team.

With such an international competition, we can expect the Labrador City-Wabush are to be in the fore front of the North American skiing world on the weekend of March 20 and 21, 1970. Although she was only here for a few short hours, Nancy found time to visit the schools, both in Wabush and Labrador City. She was greeted very enthusiastically by the youngsters who bombarded her with questions.

These were fielded by Mrs. Raine with the warmth and charm that all of Canada has come to know and love over the past few years.

Nancy will be embarking on a new career early in 1970, that or raising school children of her own, and so to both Nancy and Al go all the best wishes of everyone in the Labrador City and Wabush area.

TRIALS

Trails, temptations, disappointments - all of these are helps instead of hindrances if one uses them rightly. They not only test the fibre of character but strengthen it. Every conquered temptation represents a new fund of moral energy. Every trail endured and weathered in the right spirit makes a soul nobler and stronger than it was before.

-(James Buckham).

MISERY

If you want to be miserable think about yourself, what you want, what you like, what respect people ought to pay you, and then nothing to you will be pure. You will spoil everything you touch. You will make misery for yourself out of everything which God sends you. You will be as wretched as you choose.

-(Charles Kingsley)

Quotes worth remembering

Men and women are the products of their leisure time - (Theodore Roosevelt).

Boys and girls should be instructed so that they can discriminate between the enjoyments that enrich and enlarge their lives and those which degrade and dissipate - (John Dewey).

All the vagabondage in the world begins with neglected childhood - (Victor Hugo).

Drunkenness does not create vice, it merely brings it out - (Seneca).

Scanning the market

By C.S. DEVINE

According to the main indexes, Canadian stock markets continue to outperform the U.S. lists. But a look beneath the surface indicates that the strength is largely confined to the blue chip issues. Many junior industrials and other speculative situations still suffer from the uncertainty that prevails in the U.S.

The market's general sluggishness, and uncertainty over government tax policy, have combined to hit the usually speculative penny mining stocks as hard as any group. Brokers now say there is little chance of a boom, or even a revival, until Ottawa's position on tax reform is known, probably in late October. At issue are the mines' three year tax - free period on new mines and their depletion allowances.

Of course the penny mining stocks are not completely dead. Traditionally they are liable to speculative price moves that have no relation to the over - all market. But the market's general slide this year has contributed to a growing list of losers. Those with the severest declines recently included, Hanson Mines, Eskimo Copper, Cadillac Moly Mines, Omega Gold Mines and Wilco Mining. All dropped at least 66% from highs this year.

Hanson fell from a high of $1.50 this year, largely because of disappointing assays from property in the Wollaston Lake uranium area in Northern Saskatchewan. Eskimo Copper, bit by a lack of results from claims in the Coppermine River area, 350 miles north of Yellowknife, N.W.T., dropped from a high of 80c. Many declines in the penny mines have similar backgrounds and general market conditions have contributed to price losses following negative exploration reports. But the question of the mines' tax breaks also looms. Mining companies now have the three year tax - free ride on new mines. They also have the depletion allowances, justified because a producing mine is to some extent a wasting asset.

However since the Carter Royal Commission on taxation reported in 1967, these breaks have been in doubt. The government's taxation white paper, long delayed but now set for late this month, should end the uncertainty. Until it does, the big mining companies are also unsure of their next developments. This has the side effect on the smaller mines, which usually benefit from proximity to new developments of the larger mines.

Mutual fund switching is a distasteful trend, says Mr. John C. Bogle, chairman of the board of governors of the U.S. Investment Company Institute. He recently told a dealers conference in New York: "There is a single best way to lose money in mutual funds; to switch rapidly from one fund to another as the spotlight of near - term performance swings back and forth across the stage." He added that "the mutual fund is still inherently a long - term investment medium."

The uranium fever shows signs of heating up again now that prices are back to reasonable levels. Denison which dropped from $74.50 to $40.50 is currently $52.00. Rio Algom which dropped from $32.00 to $16.00 is currently $24.00. Both are simply getting closer to the point where they will start to benefit from export contracts signed during the past couple of years and a few big investors, including some which made sizeable profits the first time around, are starting to nibble.

Denisons proceeds, including an estimated $15 million in cash, from the sale of its 400,000 share interest in Canada Cement Ltd. have started another round of speculation about acquisition plans. Much of the interest in Rio stems from a very good report by Burns Bros. & Denton Ltd. of Toronto, an early uranium booster. Burns expects that an increase in earnings per share from 95c this year to $2.50 by 1972 will be accompanied by a "substantial" rise in the stock.

CONNELLY AND TWIZELL SHOOT

Last weekend saw twenty entrants compete in the annual Connelly and Twizell Skeet Handi-cap shoot. With the temperatures hovering around the thirty degree mark one would expect enthusiasm to be dampened, but this was not the case, with first place winner, Tony Noble getting forty nine out of fifty birds. Runners up in the shoot were, C. Desrochas, 2nd place; L. Koish, third; K. Pafford, fourth; and Bill Caverly in fifth place.

All five competitors in the fifty bird shoot off had forty eight out of fifty with handicap. Gord Howse had forty eight out of the fifty but lost on the shoot-off.

The Tamarack Golf Club annual trophy night and dance will be held in the O'Brien Hall, Labrador City on October 11. Tickets are available from the following members, B. McCulloch, Y. Morin, Mrs. B.A. Selleck, Lillian Bouzanne, Flip Dawson, J. Thomson, W.A. Campbell and C. Collins. Admission will be restricted to members and escorts only. Sale of tickets will be discontinued after October 4.

LABWAB — T-Dor

Last spring we became disenchanted with the columnist business and vacated these pages. We quit in a snit you might say. At the time we kept an eye trained on the Aurora mailbox with the thought and with a knowing smirk that literally thousands of letters would flood the Publisher's desk demanding a return of our brilliant writings and witty repartee. Up until last week not one letter of note was received, but today our friend, Alex, advises that some nice old lady has written in stating she enjoys Aurora now that that WABLAB character is no longer with it. With this blow to our ego, we now return at the same price. We have returned spurned you would probably agree.

One of the lines of thought we used to dwell on was Labwab, and the fact that it was not such a bad place after all. It still isn't all that bad a place, but if nice old ladies are going to make snide remarks about us we may as well pick something to pieces and the something this week is the CBC.

Every week our benefactor, in Ottawa, The CBC Northern Services Branch bring to the screen for our cultural and recreational edification a veritable goldmine of goodies. In fact some of these goodies are so good we have opportunities of seeing them more than just once. Anyway, with the CBC's programming in mind we approached some citizens at random to gain the general opinion of Labwabia.

"Mrs. Ironmonger, could you tell this columnist just what your opinion of the CBC's program 'Telescope' is?"

"My husband and I don't watch it but our son Cuthbert does."

"Could we talk to Cuthbert?"

"I'm sorry, Cuth is away right now taking part in a demonstration at U of T."

We next called on a citizen who was found in his back yard painting a fence. "Tell us Sir, what is your opinion of sports as programmed by the CBC on our local station?"

"Buddy", he says "Buddy, that's a good question. Up until a year ago last summer I was the real sports type, see! I never missed last week's hockey, I watched all the golf there was to see, hours and hours of it. When football came on I was right there. There was nothing in sports I missed, see! The CBC was right in there, they covered the works and I saw em all. A man couldn't ask for better programming than that."

"You mentioned 'a year ago last summer'. What happened then?"

"Well, like I say I watched all the sports there was. The Mexican Summer Games came on one week, and it played all week for hours and hours and it was great. This year the wife read about the CBC being in Halifax for their Canada Games, and this week just before I could see the first show she wrecked the TV with an axe. I just can't figure women."

Further in our survey we called Mr. and Mrs. Orebody and asked their candid opinion of our local musical programming.

Mrs. Orebody, replied "Already in mine life we are having a musical education in the old country. Every day is giffing Bach, Brahms, Beethoven and like that. Every evening is giffing violin, cello, and Isaac is playing on the flute yet. We are coming to Canada becoming a citizen for five years and buying a TV already. In Labrador City we are turning it on, and what are we getting? Long hair and short music is what we're getting, with electronics yet. Better we should buy a stereo and mail some records from Isaac's fadder in the old country."

And Mr. Orebody said, "You know Rachel, you should not have scared that man away like that. He wasn't one of them, he had no hair."

T - Dor never says die and called on Mr. and Mrs. Hi Production.

"Tell us, Mrs. Hi Production, what do you think of TV programming in this locality?"

"Frankly Mr. T - Dor, I haven't much time for it, having nine little ones and all, and cooking and washing, sewing and slaving so's to speak", but my George must love it because he always refers to it as TV TO WAIT FOR THE BATHROOM BY and sometimes he gets so interested that he misses his turn. Why only last week -----"

We were still going our rounds at ten last night and found an acquaintance Mr. Clyde Conveyor keeping house while his spouse played bridge.

"Tell us Clyde, for the sake of our Labwab Opinion Poll, what you think of the movies we are subjected to by our misguided tax dollar which has come forth in ten cent form from the insatiable maw of the CBC?" (This is poor form when taking an opinion poll, but as we say Clyde is an old friend).

"T - Dor old buddy" says Clyde. "It's like this, the other night Abigail and I are watching a movie; we have to watch them once in awhile with the kids you know. Suddenly we notice the kids have taken off and I find little Willie going to bed and little Marybelle digging in the fridge. Don't you kids want to watch the show, I says. "Dad", says Little Willie, "It's just no use watching TV shows with you, because it makes Marybelle and me sad. Every time we see a movie you and mom start talking and laughing about those olden times in the movies and how you remember the same car, or the same old song from when you were young. Tonight when you said that Dick Powell's 1939 car was the same year as your first one, Marybelle and me got sad and scared about you and mom being so old we just couldn't watch TV anymore".

We left poor old Clyde in despair and vowed not to bring up the subject again.

Yours in optimism
T - DOR

Strike action averted at Wabush Mines

Members of the United Steelworkers of America, Local 6285 of Wabush ratified the new wage and working agreement presented to them by Wabush Mines, at a meeting held in the Recreation Center on Sunday past. 75.5% of the members voted to accept the offer, thus averting the possibility of strike action against the company.

Wabush was the only remaining local in the Quebec North Shore and Labrador West mining complex, that did not have a new working agreement to replace the old contract which expired October 30, 1968.

Wabush Mines employees had not been on strike but up until two weeks ago, had been laid off since early May, when a strike closed the Company's pelletizing plant at Pointe Noire, Quebec.

The new agreement calls for a 40 hour work week with time and one half for hours worked in excess of 40 per week, working on an employee assigned day off, or for the first 8 hours on Sunday. Double time will be paid for hours worked in excess of 12 per day and in excess of 8 on Sunday.

The basic rate of pay covered in the collective agreement will mean that job class 3 now receives, $2.67 per hour, on the signing of the contract this will increase to $3.04 and to $3.19 effective March 1970 with a final raise to $3.35 at the expiration of the agreement.

For Job Class 17 the present rate is $3.72, this will increase to $4.16 on the signing date and a further increase to $4.35, March 1970, and $4.54, March 1971. Some other benefits cover, improved pension plan, paid lunch periods for all employees, double time for call out, afternoon and night shift premiums, vacation and holiday pay and welfare plan.

Wabush Mines pointed out in their proposal, that the company had scheduled a 48 hour work week throughout the past collective agreement, because of the overwhelming desire for it by employees and despite the terms of the agreement which provided for a normal work week of 40 hours.

While the company acceded to the union demand this year for a 40 hour week, it was stated that the Company has no obligation to make any payment to overcome loss of income resulting from the reduction in work hours. However in order to overcome the effect on employees of the reduction in hours and for wage retroactivity purposes, the Company will during this collective agreement only, make three lump sum bonus payments to employees.

The first payment will be made two weeks after the signing date of the contract to employees who remain on the active payroll throughout that two week period. For each employee on vacation, the first payment will be made two weeks after their return to work.

A tradesman in job class 2 will receive as a first payment, $2,300.00, one year after the signing, $1,675.00 with a payment of $820.00 the following year and a cheque for the final amount of $200.00 will be paid by January 10th, 1972. In comparison an employee in job class 17, will receive $3,000.00 initially, followed by $2,375, $1,420.00 and $200.00.

Approximately seven hundred hourly paid workers had returned to their jobs two weeks ago to await the outcome of negotiations between their Union officials and the Company. With the settlement of the Wabush Mines agreement, labour troubles which have plagued the area since early May are now ended.

Youngsters ready to go in minor hockey

Saturday September 20th was Registration Day for the Minor Hockey Players of Labrador City - Wabush. The young aspiring "Bobby Hulls" paid their fee and are ready to go. Of course, there are a few details (minor to the boys, major to the parents) which have to be ironed out - skates, that have to be replaced because of growing feet, shin pads that always manage to break off at the knees, gloves that had the fingers worn through by last year's sticks, and without a doubt, new hockey sticks. They never seem to survive the summer. Yes, parents, always manage, somehow, to have our sons well-equipped and comfortable on the ice.

Do we then breath a sigh of relief and feel that our duty, in that particular phase of our sons' lives, is done? Unfortunately this is sometimes the case because the number of parents who watch the children play is not great. One realizes that it is impossible for any parent to attend all the games, for some it is almost impossible to attend any; but for most of us it means just a little extra effort. It is well worth this effort when a son shouts "Mom, that goal was for you" or "Dad you brought me luck". At that moment the work, left undone in the kitchen or the carpentry in the work shed will seem very insignificant indeed.

When the little black puck goes round and round

You'll shout in glee or despair

Every mood you will share, when your sons on the ice

Win or Lose; he'll welcome you there.

Candidate interviewed on CBC TV

ST. JOHN'S - John Crosbie, candidate for the leadership of the Liberal party in Newfoundland and Labrador, told a CBC television audience September 24 "I am a Liberal, loyal to the party... the Liberal party is not one man. It is myself and with now thousands or tens of thousands of others."

Questioning Mr. Crosbie on the program "Quote and Comment" were Councillor James Fagan, Mrs. Shannie Duff and Mrs. Barbara Nugent.

Speaking of the Liberal Association, Mr. Crosbie said "When I become leader, or if I become leader, we need a strong central headquarters who will assist the 41 district associations... give them some money to get started and advise them how to organize".

Mr. Crosbie said further on that he agreed with the importance of economic development. "What we need is a department of economic development with economists and chartered accountants who are competent to go out to try and attract business themselves. One thing we need to stop immediately is announcing the establishment of industry before the final agreements are entered into because the effect of that is the promoters now know that they can get better concessions because the government will be embarrassed if the announcement doesn't go ahead".

this week in ASTROLOGY

BY CARL PAYNE TOBEY
ILLUSTRATED BY DE GRAZIA

Not being serious about it, in its issue of March 26, 1966, a now defunct national magazine stated, "The astrologers are now predicting a rough year ahead for President Lyndon Johnson . . . the astrologers have advised both soldiers and diplomats to keep their heads down." One year and five days later, LBJ surprised the world by saying, "I will not be a candidate nor will I accept my party's nomination." Eight months later, Hubert Humphrey was defeated and Richard Nixon was elected President of the United States.

FUTURE

TOBEY'S PREDICTION:

A better week. More philosophical. It holds improved social possibilities. Most educational efforts are in special favor. A higher spirit of justice. There can be great scientific prospects. If your birthday is near Oct. 9, you can develop a new and more harmonious outlook on everything in life. It is a week when everybody should raise his sights and aim for something much higher in life.

PRESENT

THE ARIES PLAYBOY

He is out to conquer and build his own empire. If you are what he wants, he'll just carry you off and stop playing. A pretty girl who wrote the astrology page for LOVE STORY MAGAZINE was crossing a street near Times Square when a tall and handsome stranger grabbed her arm and said, "You don't know it but I'm going to marry you." And he did. He was an Aries, and he was none other than John Hays Hammond Jr., who then went on to build his electronics empire. He was one of America's greatest inventors. He even invented a new way of selecting a wife!

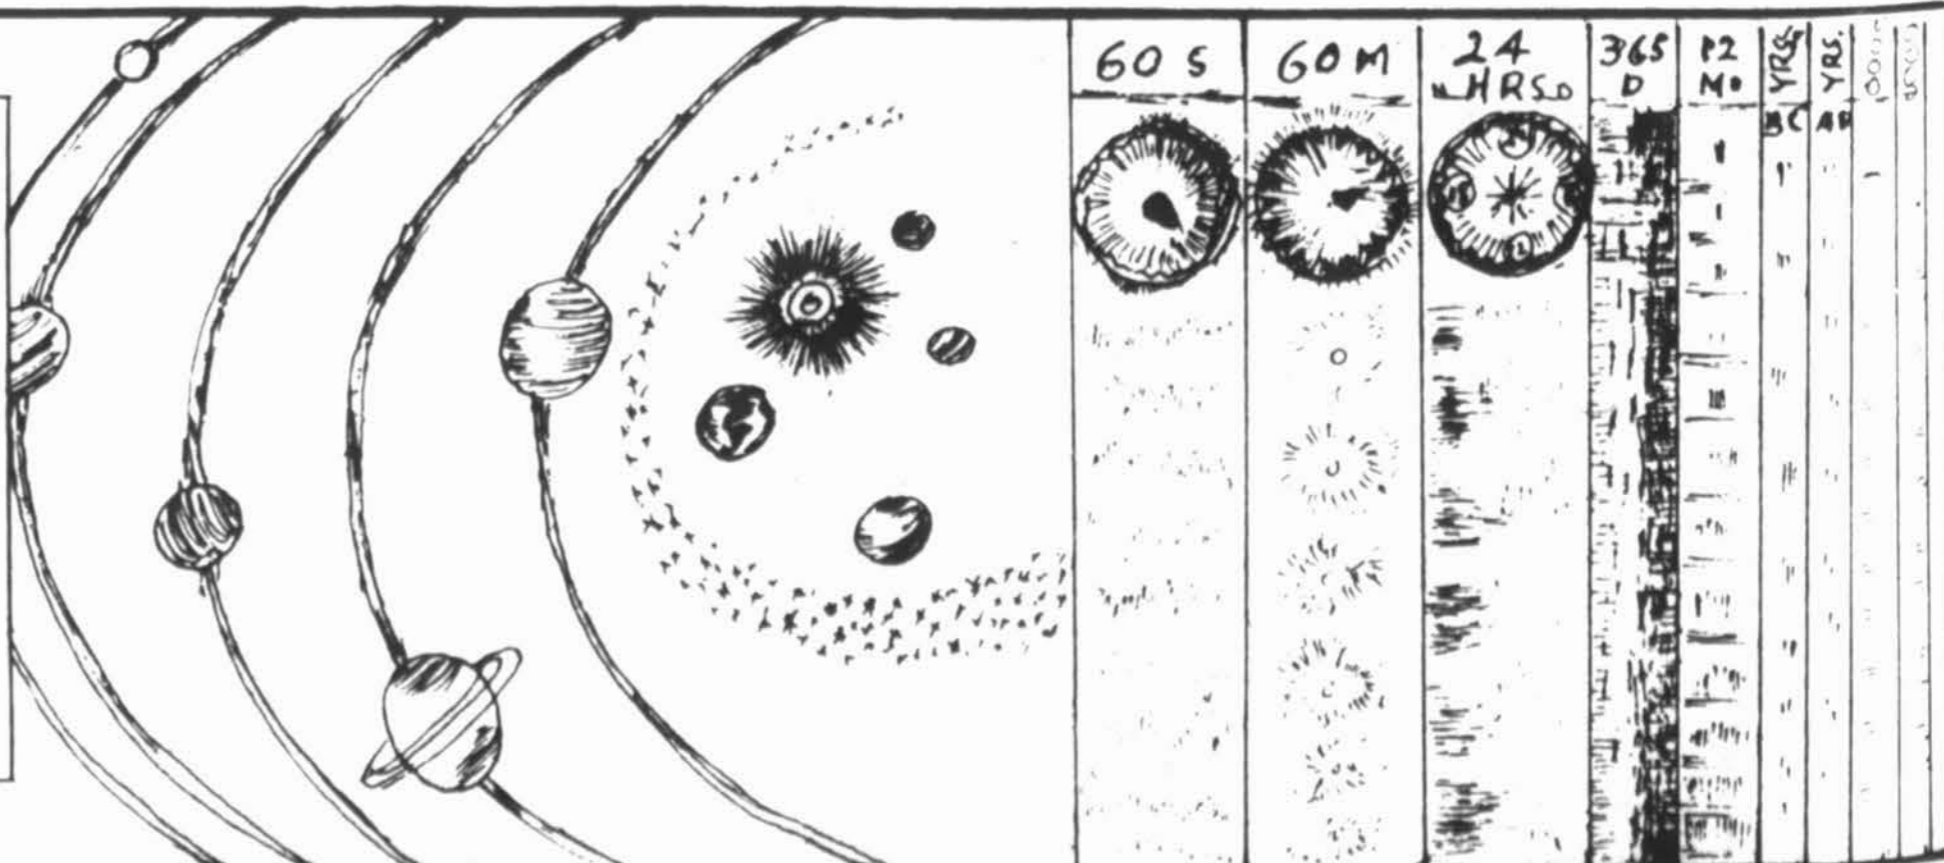

YOUR WEEK AHEAD

- ♈ ARIES Mar. 21-Apr. 19
New contacts important. Heed others' views. They might come up with something important. Slow down.
- ♉ TAURUS Apr. 20-May 20
Don't overemphasize the material side of things. Knowledge of principles is more important this week.
- ♊ GEMINI May 21-Jun. 21
You can make this a good week if you concentrate on one thing at a time until you finish it. Travel OK.
- ♋ CANCER Jun. 22-Jul. 22
Knowledge may be more important than material possessions. Put your attention on the real know-how.
- ♌ LEO Jul. 23-Aug. 22
More expansive. Set out to make a good impression, with modesty, on other persons. Dig for the truth.
- ♍ VIRGO Aug. 23-Sep. 22
You should be able to make this a good week if you will seek greater understanding of things, people.

- ♎ LIBRA Sep. 23-Oct. 22
Steady improvement for you throughout the week, but avoid trying to get things the easy way. Work hard.
- ♏ SCORPIO Oct. 23-Nov. 21
Good possibilities on most fronts. Educational matters are favored. Seek to improve your finances.
- ♐ SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22-Dec. 21
If your ambitions are lofty you can make a high score this week. Good socially and romantically.
- ♑ CAPRICORN Dec. 22-Jan. 19
You are in an upward cycle all week. Be thinking things out and making your plans for the future.
- ♒ AQUARIUS Jan. 20-Feb. 18
Good for gaining a better understanding of all matters that we can classify as the unknown factors.
- ♓ PISCES Feb. 19-Mar. 20
Avoid extravagance and overconfidence. Don't start the new or make changes until you reach next week.

COMPUTERIZED ASTROLOGY

There has to be a starting place. The first computerized astrology is like the first automobile. It is accompanied by some criticism on the part of astrologers, but stands to be the astrology of the future. Its possibilities are limitless. With the number of complex factors the individual astrologer is lost, and yet, the average astrologer has made a good and an interesting record despite all limitations and hostility on the part of the academic world. Make no mistake, computerized astrology is here to stay and will evolve into something not yet visualized.

STAIN FINISH

One easy method of producing a nice stain finish on small surfaces is by means of ordinary paste - wax shoe polish. After sanding your wood surface as smooth as possible - and be sure you do a good job of this sanding, since your wax polish will bring out every slight imperfection - apply your wax shoe polish in the color you want, and as it comes from its container. Apply and rub this wax down until it builds up uniformly on the wood, and then after you have allowed it to dry thoroughly, buff it to a high finish - (Gene Von)

Five-year study will consider living in Canada's one-industry, northern towns

What are the factors that make for a good life in the remote one-industry towns of Canada's North? Can they and outsiders from the more settled parts of the nation take their place in the resource industries around which new and isolated towns have been built? And what about educational facilities for families who take up new lives in the new towns? And homemaking amenities and recreation and all the other factors that affect the quality of life everywhere?

These and scores of similar questions arising more and more frequently as Canada's resource industries reach into the hinterland to create bustling industrial centers in the midst of a vast, uninhabited wilderness, are the subject of a massive 5-year study due to get under way in 1971. At that time the 3-year preliminary survey to determine the scope of the study, define the form it will take and gather statistics will have been completed by the University of Manitoba's Center for Settlement Studies.

The center came into being two years ago under the chairmanship of Dr. John R. Page, a Jesuit scholar. Father Page travelled throughout many parts of Canada to rouse interest in the project, but had to relinquish his duties last October for reasons of health. His place was taken by H.E. Duckworth as chairman of the project's 8-man steering committee. Professor L.B. Siemens was name executive secretary. The center has enlisted the help of 16 professors representing nine Manitoba University faculties. Associated with them will be 26 graduate students, many hoping to complete theses from research entailed in the study. Their work will take them to towns such as Churchill, Lynn Lake, The Pas, Thomson, Flin Flon, Red Lake, Whitehorse and other "down north" communities for on the spot research. The research will extend as far as the Yukon. The inter-faculty research group includes an economist, sociologist, economist, political scientist, geographer and home economist.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corp., which has been instrumental in making mortgage funds available for many of Canada's newest towns (this must be strictly in Western Canada), is the major source of funds for the study. For the year ended 31 July 1969, it contributed $130,000 to the study.

To help researchers deal with their problems and introduced into the community they have selected to study an advisory committee representing government, labor, industry, housing and native Canadian

W.G. Morrow, whose work in the Northwest Territories Court of Justice has been much to bridge the gap between Eskimo and white man, is a member, as is David Courchesne, president of the Manitoba Indian Brotherhood. Len Stevens, Manitoba area supervisor of United Steelworkers of America, represents the Canadian Labor Congress on the committee where he sits with R. Lachapelle, assistant director of the research branch of the Canadian Department of Manpower and Immigration. E.R. Weick, head of the transport section of the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development, the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy is represented by Professor H.D. Wilson, head of the University's geology department. R.B. Elver, chief of its research and planning division, is the nominee of the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. G.A. Kristjansson and L.F. Douglas are two sociologists who are studying the viewpoints of the students. P.H. Wichern, a political scientist, the goal is to find a model for the political development of resource front communities, and his studies will include findings from first-hand observations made in Thompson, Flin Flon, Pinawa and Pine Point. Then there is Dr. Shirley Weber of Manitoba University School of Home Economics whose special interests include nutrition, home furnishings, child care, clothing, family budgeting and many other factors that determine the quality of living as it exists in Thompson.

Professor Matthiasson, anthropologist, is at present on a 1-year study at Fort McMurray, Alberta. For it, he has devised a lengthy questionnaire which is to be put to approximately 7000 respondents. From their answers he hopes to learn why certain types of individuals adjust to their environment better than others and to identify the characteristics which enable them to make better adjustments.

In all, 16 separate studies are in progress, with another planned, according to the centre's second annual report. During the first year research efforts devoted their main efforts to attracting interest from among members of the university faculty. A highlight of the year program was a symposium involving three leading "citizens of the North" and a senior government official. They were subject to all the questions the researchers could throw at them.

Of the 21 topics discussed "economic stability and opportunity" was ranked unanimously as being of the importance by the panellists.

PRIORITIES FOR PROGRESS

John C. Crosbie's Policy For Labrador

Crosbie: A New Generation of Leadership

We should establish a Labrador Advisory Council whose membership would consist of representatives from the various communities of Labrador elected by those communities. Such a council would be consulted by the Government on policies that are proposed by the Government that affect Labrador. It should advise the Government on the views of the people of Labrador with reference to all matters of public interest, would suggest to the Government what changes in policy or what new policies might be needed insofar as Labrador is concerned.

The proposed Labrador Advisory Council must be the active avenue of communication between the Government and the people of Labrador. It would provide consultative machinery so that the people of Labrador would be fully informed about past and possible future developments in Labrador. The council could consider matters referred to it by the Government, or matters initiated by it. It should have the power to bring to the attention of Government any matter deemed significant by the Council. The Council would have the right to be consulted, to advise and warn. There must be developed a Regional Development Plan for Labrador as part of the overall economic strategy for the development of Newfoundland and Labrador. The regional plan should be considered and discussed with the Labrador Advisory Council as the plan is developed.

I support fully the concept of a road connection between Western Labrador and the Province of Quebec.

We must initiate discussions with the Government of Quebec to encourage necessary road building in Quebec so that the isolation of Western Labrador can be overcome. The Government of Newfoundland quite properly proposes that there should be a road from the Labrador side of the Straits of Bell Isle to Goose Bay and from Goose Bay across Labrador to Wabush and Labrador City with a connection to Newfoundland across the Straits by way of tunnel or ferry. This is a sound policy. To accomplish the construction of this road we must persuade the Government of Canada to meet at least 90% of the cost. Every effort must be made to impress upon the Government of Canada the importance of this road.

In the field of communications I support the suggestion that Western Labrador have its own radio station, owned and operated by residents of Newfoundland and Labrador.

We must encourage the adoption of a joint policy by Canada and the Province whereby special concessions might be given to individuals or businesses which operate in the Northern reaches of Canada. A policy should be adopted that encourages the development of Labrador by providing exciting incentives to individuals and business. With such a programme Newfoundland and Labrador will develop together for their joint benefit.

These are my priorities. I believe these policies, these principles will serve Labrador well.

CROSBIE SUPPORTERS MAKE SURE YOU ATTEND THE NOMINATING MEETINGS in Labrador City, October 8th., and in Wabush October 9th.

THE REGIMENT by Andrew Graham

The Regimental Association committee of Queen Adelaide's Imperial Heavy Infantry were dubious when one of their members (retired from the field) returned to the more contemplative pastures of Boar's Head suggested they should employ a popular novelist to write the long deferred regimental history instead of the usual budding historian. Peter Gresham, the novelist in question, it also seemed a good choice, but philosophically accepting the commission as a man's pleasant and leisurely task, he set out to compile as conscientious and accurate a portrait of the QUIHIs as he could. It was only after some months of fruitless questioning that he began to see just why his peculiar imaginative talents had been called upon. While it is taken for granted among the regiment's past and present members that there was not, never been and never could be a real body of fighting men that the QUIHIs, there were on certain subjects in the recent past what could only be described as divergences of opinion. Captain du Quesne, the "Tiddler", - one of Andrew Graham's most meticulous creations - faithfully recorded his experiences in an ordinary couleur de rose, yet to others, locked in their own nostalgic or alcoholic hazes, certain passages seemed to have been conveniently erased from the corporate memory. Why, for instance, was Lt. Col Wexlow promoted away from the QUIHIs so suddenly after the Tiddler's evening stroll? What happened to Col. Webley-Beevor during the first ten minutes of the Regiment's service on foreign soil? Why were the epic struggles of Zonderbosch and Valkenloo, the QUIHIs' finest hours, ignored in all more orthodox military chronicles? And why did the Honorary Colonel think it necessary to utter such cryptic warnings over the ducal port? The answers to these questions come with Peter's growing realisation that the QUIHIs are a regiment of very special qualities - even more special, if in a very different way than he had at first imagined.

In THE CLUB, Andrew Graham penetrated with calm and unerring satire that most unassailable of English strongholds. Now with equal good humour he casts an ironically friendly eye on another of the bastions of English life, with memorable results. Osbert Lancaster's superb drawings need no introduction. They adorn the tale.

BIG FOOT WALLACE OF THE TEXAS RANGERS by Shannon Garst

William Big Foot Wallace, Texas Ranger belonged to the wild, untamed frontier. His story is a Texas story, full of color, action and flamboyance; Indian raids and scalping, tall tales and exaggeration. Most of all, the story of Big Foot's life is the story of Texas - sprawling, brawling, vibrant with a new growth that is vitally American and vitally alive.

Big Foot went down to Texas to avenge the death of his brother who had been killed defending the Alamo. By the time he got there, the war was over, and Big Foot liked the wide open spaces and frontier living and so he stayed on.

But he itched for action and adventure and when he heard that the Mexicans had attacked San Antonio, he joined the Texas Rangers to defend the settlers and drive the invaders back across the frontier. Once he was captured by Indians and once by the Mexicans who held him prisoner for two years. When he was released, he drove a stage coach with the mail through hostile Indian Country.

Life on the Texas frontier in those days was vigorous and violent and survival required stamina, resourcefulness and a steady finger on the trigger. And every man was quick to defend the Lone Star State. William Wallace was born in Virginia, but he was a Texan through and through and he had an important part in building it and defending it. As he himself often said, he saw a help of history in the making and taming of Texas. Ranger Wallace sought neither fame nor fortune but he has become the outstanding folk hero of Texas.

BECAUSE THE NIGHT WAS DARK by Chavchavadze

The opening phases of the Russian Revolution, culminating with the murder of the Imperial Family in the bloody cellars of Ekaterinburg, form the background to this epic novel. It is told with all the authority of an eye-witness account, with glimpses of such historic figures as Lenin, Kerensky, Rasputin and the Tsar mingling with a host of fictional characters. The action centres of the family of Count Romantsev: The Count himself, a character of true comic grandeur, nicknamed Behemoth on account of his corpulence, who cannot understand or accept the inevitable changes and sees the rise of the Left and the passing of Imperial Russia as a terrible and meaningless disaster; his plain, sensible daughter Varya, who as the book opens is declaring her boredom with the soft Petersburg society, then at the height of its sunset glory; and Sandro, his son, fastidious heir to centuries of wealth and culture, whose own personal story runs as a theme through the book. Around the Romantsevs are supporting characters, Trofim the revolutionary, Nastya, the Count's mistress, and many others, forming with them a web of love and violence, hate and despair. Against a background as vast as Russia itself the people and events stand out clearly, creating an unforgettable picture of what it was like to live through one of the great turning-points in history.

DOORKNOB REPAIR
When a glass doorknob has become loosened, one simple way to retighten it is with a little sand and glue. After removing the knob from the door, insert a little sand into the opening between the ferrule and glass and then flow a little glue on top of the sand. Then be sure the knob is kept straight in place until the glue has hardened. —(Gene Von).

Association vice-president objects to use of his name

Haig Young, vice-president of the Harbour Grace District Liberal Association has stated that Premier Smallwood used his name in the Loyal Liberal without his consent and that the Premier was attempting to use the Harbour Grace District Association for his own purposes.

In a statement, Mr. Young said: "My name was used in the Loyal Liberal without my consent. This is not the way things are done in a democracy. "But that is a small matter compared to the way in which the district associations, especially the Association in Harbour Grace are being used for the wrong purpose.

When the Harbour Grace Association was formed it was intended to be used to strengthen the Liberal Party in the area not as a means of ensuring the election of one of the candidates at the leadership convention.

"These activities lead me to the conclusion that it is time for a change of leadership, so I shall do all I can to ensure that John Crosbie is elected leader of the party, in a democratic manner."

Liberal meeting dates set

It has been announced by the Labrador West Liberal Association, that meetings for the nomination and election of delegates to attend the forthcoming Leadership Convention to be held in St. John's will take place in Labrador City Wednesday, October 8, Wabush, Thursday the 9th, and at Twin Falls on October 11.

You Are The Detective

The wealthy cattleman, Adam Stuart, meets you at the front door of his picturesque ranch home. "A horrible thing . . . this tragedy that has struck us," he exclaims. "I just can't understand why Sam should have done it."

You follow him into the huge, extremely high-ceilinged living room where from one of the beams hangs the body of Adam Stuart's partner, Sam Wilkins. As you move near the body your eyes are caught by the brand new boots dangling just about at the level of your chest, then you stoop to examine the little coffee table which lies over - turned on the wide - planed floor underneath, the highly - polished top of the table mirroring your solemn features as you bend over it.

"He must have stood on that, then kicked it away," says Stuart. "I was out on the range this morning examining some new stock that came in yesterday. Sam, as you know, lives about a mile from here. He was supposed to meet me on the range this morning . . . when he failed to appear, I was very much puzzled . . . he was always so conscientious about being punctual. Finally, as I was riding near the house here, I decided to come in and phone him at his home. You can imagine how shocked I was when I came in and found him . . . like this! I've seen a lot of rough living in my time . . . some killings, too . . . but when it's your own partner . . ." he shakes his head mournfully.

"Why didn't you cut him down and try to revive him?" you ask.

"I guess I didn't even think of that. Anyway, it looked as though he had been hanging there for quite awhile, and I'm sure there was nothing I could have done for him."

"Well," you then say, "whether or not you could have done anything for him, I don't know. But I'm sure this was not a suicide!"

What has led you to this conclusion?

SOLUTION

The fact that Sam Wilkins' feet were hanging at the level of your chest eliminates the possibility of his having used the "little" coffee table to stand on. And you cannot fathom why a cattleman as hardened and experienced as Adam Stuart should have left his partner's body hanging as he did. The normal reaction upon discovery would have been to cut the body down as quickly as possible and make some attempts at resuscitation.
