MAYORS FEDERATION MEETS - The Local Improvement District of Labrador City hosted the executive members of the Newfoundland Federation of Mayors and Municipalities earlier this month. The quarterly meeting was held with Eric Dawe, Mayor of Bay Roberts and President of the Newfoundland Federation in attendance. Shown above are the executive members as they were about to get down to business. The next meeting of the executive is scheduled to be held early in December in St. John's. Mr. Dawe said that he considered the decision to hold the meeting in Labrador an expression of good will towards this part of the province. All members who attended are reported to have been considerably impressed with the area and the twin-towns in general. They were taken on a tour by the Iron Ore Company of Canada where the huge mining complex was explained to them. Some mention was made of holding the Federation's annual convention in Labrador, but it was pointed out that while members would be very interested in this, sufficient accommodation does not exist in Labrador West. There are only four centres in the province which can accommodate a convention of the size - the Federation's membership in Newfoundland has risen to 250 with all parts of the province being represented. The 1969 - 70 executive includes Eric Dawe, J.T. Browne, eastern vice - president; W.A. Campbell, Labrador City as northern vice - president; H. Hartnell, western vice - president and E.B. Foran city clerk of St. John's as secretary.

RECORD SCORER!
There are a good many old duffers who will argue that darts is a man's game, but there's one Labrador West lady who can show them the error of their ways! She's Mrs. Betty Hobe of Wabush who has chalked up a record score of 180! Mrs. Hobe is photographed here just after she made the record throw. A member of the mixed dart league Mrs. Hobe is now eligible for a gold pin and three gold darts from the Bennett Brewery in St. John's. (Aurora photo).

Live theatre-a growing interest in Labrador West

The Carol Players were formed in Labrador West in the Spring of 1963. Since that time, almost without interruption live theatre has existed in this part of Labrador.

The first performance by the group was Noel Coward's "Blight Spirit". This was staged during the spring of 1964.

In 1965, "Come Blow Your Horn" was produced

In 1966, the group held it's first Work Shop directed by Mrs. Jill Snowden and Mr. Michael Cook professional theatre directors from the Extension Department of Memorial University.

Also in 1966 the two one act plays, "Ebb Tide", and "She Married Well" were produced.

In the spring of 1967

"Charlie's Aunt" was produced, and a second Workshop was held. Again directors came from the Extension Department of Memorial University. In November of that year, "Waltz of the Toreadors" was produced.

In May 1968, three one act plays were staged. A full length production "See How They Run" was produced in December of the same year.

The Carol Players were invited to enter a play in the 1969 Regional Drama Festival, held in St. John's. "The Misunderstanding" by Camus was selected. A special Adjudicators award was given to Miss Diane Stokes for her role as 'Marie' in this play.

In 1968, Mr. B.M. Monaghan, Mine Manager, I.O.C.C. Labrador City accepted an invitation to serve as Governor of the Dominion Drama Festival of Canada.

The Carol Players have from October 6 to October 26 been involved in their third Workshop. The director, Miss Patricia Carrol Brown, came to the group under the auspices of the Dominion Drama Festival Program. Miss Brown gave a three week general theatre workshop ending in a production open to the general public.

The Carol Players plans for the future include an entry in the 1970 Sub - regional Festival being held at Corner Brook; and a wide variety of other productions. Some extensive thought is being given to the possibility of obtaining a permanent home for the Group.

Moms' Club is formed

On Tuesday, October 14, a Mother's group was formed to assist and promote Minor Hockey in Labrador City.

The Purpose of the Mother's Group will be to assist in any way the Minor Hockey Association banquets for the teams, helping with arrangements for tournaments and to help raise money.

Twenty-four ladies were present at the initial meeting with the following executive elected for the 1969-70 Minor Hockey Season President, Mrs. Rita Arnold; Vice President, Mrs. Ann Hicks; Treasurer, Mrs. Donna Decker and Secretary Mrs. P. Peckham.

The newly elected executive issued a strong plea to all mothers of Minor Hockey players to try and attend future meetings, but particularly to attend the boys hockey sessions on all occasions to encourage good sportsmanship by their interest.

LABWAB by T-Dor

T-Dor is listening to radio on Saturday morning, early Saturday in fact because we would rather not be accused of listening to radio slightly later in the day. We hear that one, Steve Armitage of CBC Halifax is enroute to Labwab along with the St. Mary's U. hockey team for purposes of showing us hockey and seeing what lies in wait for skiers, come next spring. This is news indeed and we sally forth to Wabush International Airport to meet said Armitage. By the time we arrive there we are a little leery of his visit, as we bear in mind that everything we have ever said about the CBC in the past is somewhat nasty, to say the least. So to be truthful we meet this CBC type with tongue in cheek, and pray that our dubious fame has never reached Halifax. The chances are it never has of course.

One thing leads to another, we find our CBC friend and on Sunday morning we visit Smokey Mountain to see what gives in the ski world.

Now it appears that next March, Smokey Mountain Ski Club are really laying on a big deal. Make no mistake about it. On the weekend of March 21, 1970, The Canadian Alpine Championships in Slalom and Grand Slalom are to be run off at Smokey, right here in Labwab. Of course many citizens already know about this but are a little confused because there was talk of the Pontiac Cup being run here before the Canadian Championships were figured in. Both meets are pretty fair news to begin with but the result as far as we are concerned is tops anyway as both meets lead to world competition. One meet is of as high calibre as another.

At Smokey Mountain we find citizens Bob Crook and Dave Mattinson who take the CBC in hand and show him what we have to offer, which is a little startling to say the least. To those interested in the ski business Smokey has to offer five slopes varying from 3500 feet in length up to a little better than a mile two Poma - lifts ranging from the top of the Mountain downward to the east, and downward to the north, respectively 2600 feet and 4200 feet in length a beginner's life of 250 feet, a snow packer (due any day now), lighting covering all the northern slopes for those of us who work days, and the finest snow conditions this side of Banff. In addition a communications system covers all five slopes making possible telephone and electric eye starting at almost any conceivable point where one would wish to stage a race. All this isn't enough so of course there are two parking lots, a lodge which swings from time to time, (even if it doesn't quite stack up to Jasper Park) and a membership of a thousand who are determined to make next spring's event something to remember us by.

After exhibiting what we have to offer we quite naturally ask Mr. Armitage what he thinks. It turns out he is a little flabbergasted at finding all this up here in the woods of Labwab and tells us that we have a very good point going for us. The goodpoint being that ski meets in the Laurentians and in British Columbia are pretty well old hat, even with their exotic resorts and higher mountains. However when a major event is to be run here in Labrador, then man, you have something. The press, the sports writers, the TV and radio commentators are all hipped about such an unlikely locale and suddenly Labwab is news. (Well maybe not Labwab but Labrador anyway) In short, whoever heard tell of such a large and important event ever being held in Labrador, of all places, and with national and international events, and all the prestige which accompanies such spectaculars.

So there it is, Labrador is about to be placed on the map. (with the boundary clearly shown of course). Get withit, take up this particular manly art, and back up our meet to the hilt. If anyone thinks we are overselling ourselves just keep in mind that Rossland B.C. is another mining town and produced a world winner in the form of Nancy Green.

With all this publicity national attention from the press media and so forth, T-Dor is right in his element. In fact we are doing fine until the CBC left town. At that time, our visitor says to us, "Say T-Dor, just where the devil is Labwab around here anyway?"

-Sometimes, we just can't win!

P.S. As the travelogue says however, "SKI LABWAB"

HERE 'N' THERE

SCHOOL NOTE: It will take 7.3 BILLION dollars and nearly 300,000 teachers of every kind this year to educate some 6,250,000 young Canadians, close to one third of the total population. A detailed breakdown shows 4,000,000 elementary students, 1,750,000 secondary, 300,000 in university and another 200 000 attending technical institutions, community colleges and private trade schools and colleges.

Homeowners, who bear the brunt of education taxes, can look for little immediate relief. As a nation we spent $992 per student in 1968 a sum which is expected to climb by 18 per cent this year to $1,167. The experts predict more such comparable rises in the year's ahead. A huge national investment, made in the hope of a big return.....

NEWFOUNDLAND CONTRACT: Federal Public Works Minister Arthur Laing has officially announced the awarding of a $3,250,000 contract to McNamara Construction Ltd. for harbour improvements in Corner Brook. An unofficial announcement was made by Transport Minister Don Jamieson at a press conference in St. John's last month.

The contract, which is scheduled for completion in 18 months, covers the construction of a reinforced concrete wharf which will provide 770-linear feet of dock face, a transit shed 308 feet long and 120 feet wide attached to a two storey administration building, and all related work for the wharf and shed.

OTTAWA GAME The heavens, it appears, plainly do find mischief for idle hands.

This is the only plausible explanation for Prime Minister Trudeau's statement that he would be sympathetic towards a raise in MP's salaries provided all parties agreed. "If there is a disposition in all parties to examine the subject seriously," he said, "I certainly will be enthusiastic."

As he must have known there is not the faintest chance that the NDP, for example, would go along with parliamentary salary hikes at this time. Stanley Knowles has long taken the position that no such increases should be considered until there have been raises in pensions for the aged for retired civil servants and others. Knowles promptly let out a blast saying that such a move is unthinkable while the government is asking for restraints on wage and salary increases generally as part of the battle against inflation.

Since the condition of party agreement will not be met, the Prime Minister's bluff is not likely to be called. Nevertheless, quips like this raise questions about his degree of political savvy.

HOUSING STARTS, DECLINE: Seasonally adjusted housing starts dropped sharply in September, Central Mortgage and Housing Corp. reported. Starts in September amounted to 14 049 units, up from 11 602 in September, 1968. But the seasonally adjusted rate was only 188,500 compared to 218 000 units in August. Starts of apartments were still rising by single family homes declined probably because of the scarcity of mortgage funds and extremely high rates. For the year to date, starts are 130 433. In urban centers, 17% higher than the first nine months of 1968.

Court news

In Magistrates Court, Labrador City last week a resident of Wabush was convicted of impaired driving and fined seventy five dollars with his licence suspended for six months. The same person was also charged and convicted of failing to remain at the scene of an accident, on this charge he received a suspended sentence of one year.

A Labrador City resident appeared before Magistrate Rowe charged with impaired driving, he was convicted, fined fifty dollars and his drivers licence suspended for six months.

Another resident of Labrador City was convicted of three charges of theft, and was fined twenty five dollars on each count.

Four residents, two from Wabush and two from Labrador City appeared in Court, charged under various sections of the migratory birds regulations, two were fined twenty-five dollars each and the two others received fines of ten dollars each.

A resident of Labrador City was convicted of

In the first eight months of this year Newfoundland had $91 starts, off 29.3% from the 841 recorded last year.

AIR CANADA PRESIDENT, J.R. BALDWIN: "How much do you think TCA was worth to the individual Canadian when it was established in 1937? How much would you guess Air Canada is worth to you today?" "Given total assets in 1937 of about $900 000 and a population of 10 million, TCA represented a capital investment per Canadian of 9 cents. Today, with total assets of over $500 million and a population of some 20 million, each Canadian's share is worth about $25. That is a stock with a pretty good growth rate; it's an investment worth having and worth preserving."

BOSTON TEA PARTY: A Boston tea party attracted some 500 tax protesters, to Boston Pa., a small town near McKeesport. The group passed a resolution urging the legislature to cut state spending and drop any notion of a personal income tax. It also tramped around in Indian dress, dumped mock boxes of tea in the nearby Youghioghny River and hanged Gov. Shafer in effigy. A good time was had by all, participants say.

FOREST FIRES Commercial timber losses in Newfoundland this year were small, as 133 fires burned 19 826 acres up to 31 August. There were 117 fires burning over 21,619 acres in the same period of 1968. The largest fire this year was a 7 680 acre blaze in Labrador in July.

assault and paid the $50.00 fine.

A Wabush resident appeared in court charged under the wildlife regulations, of carrying a loaded firearm in his car, he was found guilty and fined $25.00

Another resident of Labrador City appeared on two charges under the Income Tax Act, failure to file returns.

POLITE HINT A neighbour dropped in unexpectedly and spent several hours talking incessantly about nothing of interest. When the family dog entered the room, the bore gushed, "Nice pooch. Have you taught him any new tricks since I was here last?"

"Just one," replied his reluctant host, yawning. "If you whistle, he'll fetch your coat and hat."

EXPLANATION MARK: A rock and roll rehearsal is where they practice what they screech.

CONSIDERATION While travelling on a poorly ventilated bus, a man lit up a cigar and puffed pleasantly for several minutes. Then, noticing a little old lady who sat across the aisle, he leaned over and whispered, "Will this cigar bother you?"

"Only", she assured him, "if my getting sick won't bother you."

THIEVES' MARKET "Indicated reasons for the higher robbery rate among suburban banks may be that many are further from police stations, closer to expressways or lightly travelled streets."

One very good reason has been overlooked.

Which outweighs the others by far:

Suburbia offers an easier place for parking the getaway car!

LONDON PSYCHIATRIST:

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM:

"Like what?" asked the organist.

"Like O Canada," said the pastor.

Short-wave propaganda

Everyone knows the world's major nations try to sway each other's citizens with international radio broadcasts. The purchase of a modest short wave receiver a while back was intended to learn how much could be picked up with a piece of wire strung as an antenna from a second - floor window.

Sure enough, it's all there, floods of English coming from all over. The BBC announcer in London reads the news with formidable assurance, as advertised. Radio Moscow entertains with Tommy Dorsey tunes and harangues with news from Vietnam: "Last Monday and Tuesday the Americans savagely shelled three villages by means of field and naval guns. Their victims were peaceful civilians." Radio Peking fulminates against the "Soviet revisionist renegade clique."

An astonishing amount of effort is put into this international wooing - by - radio and not just by governments of the big countries, either. The World Radio - TV Handbook, a directory published in Denmark, lists 39 stations that broadcast English language programs to North America. Many of these do indeed struggle, wheezing and fading, up that casual antenna wire. A sleepy - voiced lady announcer in Rome reports the launching by government dignitaries of a new ferryboat "equipped with air conditioning." From Holland comes an enthusiastic Radio Nederland commentary on the virtues of grass as a food for cows. Radio Sophia, taking no chances, blasts both "right and left revisionists."

An international radio station is a sort of status symbol for governments big and small, even if the talent and money is wasted. There is little, for example, that Radio Prague can safely say these days in English or anything else. They play a lot of folk music.

The Chinese are incredible.

The goal of transmitting a signal all the way to North America presumably is to convert the North Americans, but no effort is made to package the product for export. Imagine a down - trodden Yankee worker coming home at night, mad at his boss, ripe for revolt as he switches the radio on. But Radio Peking is busy stamping out obscure Communist heresies, denouncing at length "the reactionary theory of Entering the Party to Become Officials, spread by the renegade, traitor and scab, Liu Shao - ch'i." Then the mood brightens. "Comrades and friends, in this program today, we bring you a series of quotations from Chairman Mao Tsetung on opposition to U.S. imperialism." The first quotation: "All reactionaries are paper tigers." True, possibly but not much nourishment for a living room revolution.

The smaller a totalitarian country, the more virulent can be its propaganda. Albania, China's tiny pal, hectors listeners with the most stilted rhetoric on the air. A lady announcer grimly plows through a warning that U.S. arms rattling won't frighten the masses, "or break their determination to march forward to national and social liberation in struggle against American imperialism and its ally, Soviet revisionism." However insulting she's been, the sign - off phrase is always: "Goodbye, dear listeners."

Radio Havana's strong signal carries statistics "to refute imperialist lies told about Cuba." But there's also much interest in Vietnam. Part of the station's programming is regularly given over to "The Voice of Vietnam - a program dedicated to the American people," in which Cuban announcers read material assembled from the Liberation Press Agency and other Communist Vietnamese sources. The Cubans delight in repeating U.S. press accounts of American war dissent.

Prime spokesman for the Soviet Union, is of course, Radio Moscow.

But unlike stations in less self - assured Red lands, Radio Moscow does try to unbend a little in communication with North America. No matter what they really thought of Mr. Nixon's Rumanian visit, the script - writers said it was characterized by "warmth, candor, and understanding." The Apollo Moon landing got lavish praise.

Stations around the world use little studio gimmicks, such as a man and woman announcer reading alternate sentences of news scripts. Most have some version of a "mailbag" show, in which questions from distant listeners are answered.

Many stations have some kind of signature theme to aid identification, snatches of song, chimes, brass fanfares. Radio South Africa, which tends to avoid arguing racial questions, probably has the most charming: A simple guitar tune, with birdcalls. The Cubans use a snappy march of the look - sharp, be - sharp - genre; the Chinese play the "Internationale."

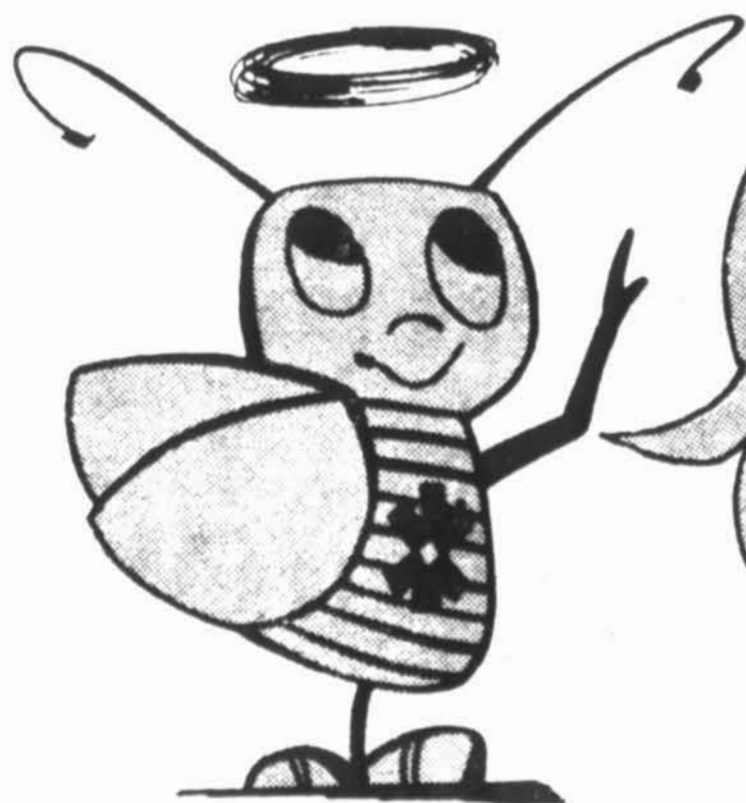

People in the radio propaganda business, the whole bunch of them, are servants of the governments with 'isms' to peddle, taxes to raise, soldiers to conscript, orthodoxy to enforce. They may be fun to listen to, but their world of artful words is an artificial world, after all.

Scanning the market

By C.S. DEVINE

THE BUSINESS AND MARKET OUTLOOK: The efforts to control prices, have, so far, been fruitless and, though business may decline, unless wage demands can be controlled and government and business capital spending limited, inflation will not decline to the desired 2% - 3% level; the profit squeeze will then continue and the market outlook will remain bleak.

The concern with the economic over-kill is now very real (from the Economic Council of Canada). If restraint is carried too long and too far, the business slowdown will continue through all of 1970 and, with the eventual upturn in business delayed, a resumed upward move in stock prices might not come until the Spring of 1970. Still, business activity remains at a high level. A serious decline in 1970 is most unlikely and political pressures, including those for more housing, should act to prevent a recession in 1970.

There is reason, now, for some market optimism: while the worst business news may be yet to come, we have probably seen the worst of the factors causing the business decline. Interest rates are not likely to rise further at this time: a decline will not occur next year: nor are the tighter monetary and fiscal policies to be expected money and credit cannot become much more scarce nor taxes and government spending controls more restrictive. While trading should remain within a narrow range for the next few months, there should be an upward pattern in anticipation of better conditions in 1970. The upward movement should be slow, however, and investor patience will be necessary.

Construction starts have shown declines this year and retail sales are sluggish unemployment is now 5.1% and consumer and wholesale prices have both risen over 5% above their year ago levels. Labor income is about 13% above a year ago and new wage agreements have averaged 7.5% increases this year; corporate profits rose 0.3% in the second quarter of 1969 but profits per unit of output have fallen sharply this year with wage and other costs increasing and sales weakening.

What, then, do investors do? Market psychology is still poor due to uncertainty as to how long restraints will continue and what may happen if they are unsuccessful in controlling inflation, or are too deflationary. Inasmuch as profits are the victim in this game, investors should choose capital intensive industries and stocks where product prices are stable or rising, i.e. mines (despite impending tax changes), public utilities, and pulp and paper products. Good bargains do exist and in quality issues, but patience is needed for prices to move. However market psychology may jump the gun and stocks may begin their rise in the next 1 - 2 months.

FOOD PROFIT SQUEEZE: The slight recovery in U.S. food retailing stocks may lead to some revival in the hard hit Canadian food merchandising stocks. But no substantial turnabout in food stocks is expected until the supermarkets do something concrete about their sagging margins. And that probably means higher food prices.

The chains have boxed themselves in. Bowing to consumer pressure, some cut prices, hoping that larger volumes would produce some increase in net income. Volume increases, while not as high as expected were more that offset by rising costs. Now analysts suggest the only way to beat the squeeze is higher prices. Companies that maintained their standard merchandising practices, while not relying on sales growth to offset price cuts, are also facing lower margins owing to higher operating costs.

The industry's ability to increase prices, already restricted by competition, was also set back by consumer protests in 1966 - 67 over the rising cost of living, particularly food costs. Costs, however, have continued to rise and without relief in the form of higher prices, profit margins have generally come under pressure.

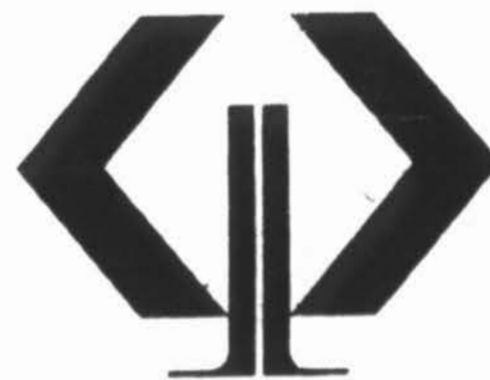

As these factors began to show up in reduced profits, stocks of the food retailing companies have become relatively poor performers in the stock market.

SUPPORT U.N.I.C.E.F.

United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (U.N.I.C.E.F.) is a United Nations sponsored organization which helps feed, clothe and educate children from over 120 under-developed countries. This organization was created in 1946 by the United Nations General Assembly and by receiving contributions on an international scale brought food, clothing and medicine to millions of children in war-torn countries. Since then, it has alleviated the suffering of many millions of children. As a reward for its great humanitarian services, this organization was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1965. Since Canada is not an under-developed country and we live in a most productive area, most of us will welcome the chance to participate in this humanitarian service. Our chance will come on October 31st, (Hallowe'en night) when Labrador City Collegiate will sponsor a drive to collect contributions for this worthwhile cause. Over five hundred dollars was collected last year, - let's make it six hundred this year! This drive will occur between 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. when boys and girls from the school will visit your home, bearing U.N.I.C.E.F. boxes. It is your duty to place coins in this box

YOU ARE THE DETECTIVE

You are seated in the office of Oscar Banning, manager of a building and loan company, listening to his story of the robber who made away with more than $5,000 in cash from his establishment.

"He was a big, tall-fellow," begins Banning. "Well dressed and rather good-looking in a tough sort of way. He wore a light gray hat, a light blue, double-breasted blazer, a maroon tie, and pearl-gray slacks . . . and oh yes, this might help you . . . his belt buckle had a monogram on it, the initial 'G.'"

"I was seated here in my office late this evening . . . all our other employees had gone . . . this fellow suddenly walked in as bold as you please, pointed a gun at me, and in very polite and cultured words ordered me to get away from my desk and move over against the wall. Then he swept all the currency off my desk into an attache case he was carrying, went over to the safe and found more money there which he likewise transferred to his case. Then after apologizing to me for 'the inconvenience' he tied me to a chair and gagged me. Then, as he walked away from me toward the door, he unbuttoned his coat and stuck his gun into his belt. It must have taken me the better part of fifteen minutes before I finally succeeded in working myself loose and phoning you."

"Have you ever had any previous experiences like this?" you ask.

"No, not since I've been manager here. My employer . . . he's out of town just now . . . when he learns of this, he's going to be very upset. He's a very emotional sort of man."

"I think he will have plenty of reason to be emotional about this," you then say, "especially when he learns that his manager is under suspicion of having staged this little robbery!"

Why do you suspect Oscar Banning?

SOLUTION

Banning told you that the "robber" was wearing a double-breasted blazer, and this was obviously buttoned, for he also told you the man unbuttoned the coat as he walked away from Banning, in order to slip his gun into his belt. Since the coat was of the double-breasted style and since it was buttoned, Banning could not possibly have seen the man's belt buckle with its "G" initial which he so foolishly described to you.

MOUNTED POLICE PATROL

by Roderick Haig-Brown

A new boys' book by Roderick Haig-Brown is an event which many people have been looking forward to, and they will find that MOUNTED POLICE PATROL has been worth waiting for. It is the story of the work of the Mounted Police in Canada's prairie country. This is far from being the Canada of romantic novels; it is a bustling, modern country, in which the "Mounties" go about their work with all the technical equipment of the Twentieth Century to aid them. The story starts when young Davie Sloane, born and brought up in the lawless violence of the back streets of Toronto, comes to live with his uncle, Ken Sandforth, a patrol officer of the Mounted Police. Davie has grown up in the belief that all who help the police are beneath contempt, and it takes a long time and many exciting new experiences before he learns that the work of the police has its own glamour, and its own chivalry, and that to be on the side of law and order is very far from being an admission of weakness. The exciting story takes place against the background of the Canadian Prairie lands, which Roderick Haig-Brown knows so well and describes so faithfully.

AN AUTHOR BITES

THE DUST by Arthur W. Upfield

Though used to dealing in character assassination and verbal back-stabbing, the literary clique gathered at the house-party of Mervyn Blake, famous author and critic, is shocked when their host is found dead in his writing room. The cause of death cannot be determined.

Detective-Inspector Napoleon Bonaparte, forgoing a holiday to assist the Victorian police in the investigation, quickly adapts himself to the work of literary hates and jealousies—a far cry from the bush characters of the inland plains he knows so well. With little to go on, Bony gradually pieces together the mystery. A cat, a ping-pong ball, an alcoholic gardener—these unlikely clues suggest the lines of investigation, but it is Bony's observation of human nature and some shrewd literary sleuthing that finally uncover the murder method, and the murderer.

STUDENT NURSE

by John Chillingworth

What is it like to be a nurse? What does she do? What kind of person is she? What does she have to learn? How does she train? These are the questions that this book sets out to answer in words and pictures.

Nursing is a service to humanity and as such is perhaps the most rewarding profession that any girl can have. It calls for hard work, intelligence, patience and above all, sympathy. Nurses are no longer drudges, harried by dragons in starched aprons; their training is thorough and their role responsible, and their chosen career is full of interest and variety.

John Chillingworth, the well-known photographer, has caught all aspects of a nurse's training and life, from the day she joins and is taught to put on her cap correctly, to the moment she becomes a fully qualified nurse; from the excitement of getting ready for the hospital dance, to assisting the surgeon in the operating theatre.

This account of a nurse's training, told with the aid of over 130 brilliant photographs, will fascinate and inspire anyone who is thinking of becoming a nurse and would like to know what lies ahead.

The Local Association feel, that any money collected for such a project should go towards providing a camp for the Guides and Brownies of this area.

Mind teaser

Jimmy has 132 marbles, some brown and some green. If he had 9 more brown marbles and 29 fewer green marbles, the number of marbles of each color would be the same. How many of each color of marble does Jimmy really have?

ANSWER

47 brown and 85 green. Subtract 9 from 132; subtract 29 from this result, and divide by 2 for the number of brown marbles.

RECORD REVIEW

EXHIBITION HOCKEY

The St. Mary's University Huskies easily won two games from the Labrador City All - Stars last weekend by the scores of 12 - 2 and 7 - 3. Even without Lowell MacDonald in their line - up, the Huskies showed that they have a power - house and are a definite contender for the Canadian Intercollegiate Championship.

In the opener, St. Mary's jumped off to an early 4 - 0 first period lead increased it to 6 - 2 after the second and outscored the locals 6 - 1 in the third. Import Rod Hinson led the attack with 4 goals while Ed Hebert and Jim Dickey added 2 each and singles went to D. Murphy, K. Martin, C. Boswick, and D. Maxwell. Local scorers were "Doc" Mosley and Bill Kelly. There were 12 penalties called in the game with six going to each team and the Huskies outshot the locals 57 - 33.

The second game proved to be much closer score - wise thanks to the outstanding work of Harris MacLean in the locals net. He made 58 stops over the route while being beaten only 7 times. Scorers for the Huskies were Bryne O'Bryne with two and Ed Hebert, G. Cameron, D. Murphy, John Murray and K. Martin with singles. Jim Mullett, Ed Kelly and Hubert Hynes were the only locals to get the puck past goalie Chuck Goddard.

Attendance for the 2 games was 1100 and 900 and the local executive was pleased with the opening series. Plans now are underway for a series with Gagnonville at the end of the month, with the team returning the trip to Gagnonville the following weekend.

SCHOOL SOCCER

The school soccer series ended this week with J.R. Smallwood Collegiate making a sweep of all 4 divisions.

In the Junior girls division J.R. Smallwood won three and tied their other game to finish with 7 points. Notre Dame Academy finished second with three while Labrador City Amalgamated finished in the cellar with one point.

The Junior Boys series was a very close one with J.R. Smallwood winning 2, losing 1 and tying 1 for 5 points. Notre Dame finished second with 4 points and Labrador City Amalgamated brought up the rear with 3 points.

In the Sr. Girls best of 5 series, J.R. Smallwood rebounded from a first game 10 - 2 bombing to sweep Labrador City Collegiate in 3 straight games.

The Sr. Boys series was the most exciting and closely played series again this year with J.R. Smallwood winning the four game total goal series 6 goals to 5. In the third game J.R. Smallwood took a three goal lead but Labrador City Collegiate battled back and finally lost out by only one goal.

The scene now shifts to volleyball, with all series beginning in the second week of November.

HERE AND THERE

Who says that Newfoundland is not a sportsman's paradise. Last Sunday I had the pleasure of golfing in St. John's on Sunday and skiing in here on Monday night - Great turnout of fans at the St. Mary's series and it shows that fans in the area are yearning and anxious to support good hockey - The first draw is presently in progress at the Curling Club. - Two high school girls, Carol Ann Bartlett and Gloria Peckham are doing a tremendous job at the rink scoring and timing all minor hockey games. - School sports are very competitive and exciting this year and players are showing a lot more sportsmanship. - The "A" league now has a third sponsor and team will be called the "Saints". I still cannot see how the team will be competitive without a draft. - The ski club has ordered a snowpacker and besides improving conditions it will lengthen the season. - An exhibition round is now being played in minor hockey in order to balance out the teams. This puts us far ahead of other centres around the island - Labrador City has followed Wabush in forming a Mom's club for minor hockey and this certainly is a move in the right direction in helping our boys. - I think that Bill Gadsby should have sent the telephone he had removed from the bench over to Billy Reay in Chicago. But then Tommy Ivan is no smarter than Reay, but in this case maybe two heads could make one.

The Seasons

By CHARLES W. RENDELL

The animals prowl the forest at night,
The fishes swarm the sea,
And in the summer when days are warm,
There's a bird in every tree.

The brooks are running so swiftly by
The lilies sway in the sun,
And in the Fall when the wind is high,
The leaves fall one by one.

The numberless insects move to and fro,
The night hawk watches the sky
And in the winter when nights are cold,
The animals prance swiftly by.

The ponds and rivers are covered with ice,
The snow lies everywhere,
But in the spring when the days are long,
We can tell that Summer is near.
