On the local scene

SUPREME COURT: It seems the Supreme Court of Newfoundland, on circuit, under Justice Mr. James D. Higgins are spending a busy week in our area. At last report no less than 10 Divorce cases were to be heard; two Civil matters; three Appeals against prior convictions; plus several miscellaneous matters. This will make it the busiest session to date, for the High Court, in their travels here.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC: Statistics released by the airline show that during the year 1970. Eastern Provincial Airways carried a total of 232,424 passengers. During 1969 the number carried was 138,905 and a target of 300,000 has been set for 1971. The Operations Summary for last year showed 18 per cent of all flights to St. John's were either delayed or cancelled because of weather. (Over the past two months this figure must have doubled.)

VEHICLE REGISTRATION: The Motor Registration Department made a brief, almost unannounced visit to this area last week. It seems there was a mix-up in communications, which resulted in many residents being unaware of their presence. However it is understood that approximately 1200 of the estimated 2200 local private vehicles were licensed by the Provincial authorities; so it turned out a fairly profitable trip for the Dept. of Finance.

TRAFFIC: We understand that with rapidly increasing traffic in Labrador City, it has been decided to do a study on the density at certain hours, especially on the Avalon Drive exit to I.O.C.C. and the Airport. With the construction of a new hotel and stepped-up rail shipments to Mount Wright this will soon be a severe problem unless a better method of moving traffic is arrived at.

Aurora was advised that motorists, resident of the new N.W. area of Lab. City, leaving the Curling Club or Arena, should use the route via Vanier, to help decrease traffic jams.

SNOWFALL: To the reader who inquired as to snowfall in December, over recent years, we supply the following: December 1968 - 48.9 inches, December 1969 - 54.5 inches, December 1970 - 26.8 inches. Yes, you won your bet.

THE LOVELORN: Ladies, fed up with the North, here's a Personal Memo from St. John's (in the snow-free south): UNMARRIED, male, non-drinker, home, car, dependable, good provider looking for wife, 26-35. Send photo please. No tricks, be honest. Apply Box 39, in care of Evening Telegram, St. John's, Nfld.

HOUSING: Aurora learns that the final disposition of the 86 homes constructed in Labrador City, following the announced expansion will be: DeJourdy (12) Canadian Bechtel, (30) I.O.C. Personnel. Ryan (44) Interior Unfinished, bunkhouses for contractor personnel.

SIR W. G. HOTEL: M.C.N. Ltd. operators of the Churchill Inn and the Sir Wilfred Grenfell Hotel announce that preparations are presently underway for expansion of the Sir W. G. Hotel. Work is to start early in the spring. Changes will be made to bar, dining and accommodations facilities. Training for the expanded operation has already begun and the management trust no interruptions in service will be necessary during the alteration and expansion period.

Mr. William Campbell, Chairman of the Local Improvement District, Town of Labrador City, at the official opening of Minor Hockey Week on Saturday, January 23, 1971.

FIVE YEAR WARRANTY: It may be more than coincidence that one of the most successful house builders this year is a Toronto firm that provides a five-year warranty with every dwelling. Since September, the company, Costain Estates Ltd. of Toronto, has issued a warranty certificate (replete with official-looking, simulated red seal) declaring its obligation to "repair or replace any defects in materials or workmanship which exist or occur under ordinary use and care."

Apparently the only string attached, and it's a minor one, is that if you happen to sell the house before your five years are up, the warranty can't be transferred.

Editorially Speaking

TAXES AND THE HIGH COST OF LIVING: Several weeks ago we mentioned in one of our columns that while there had been a slight reduction in the price of liquor purchased through local Nfld. Liquor Commission outlets, the overall price of spirits in Newfoundland was the highest in Canada. Shortly after several friends asked me how cigarette prices in this province compared with the rest of Canada. I knew we had the highest Provincial tax in Canada (being present in the House of Assembly when the then Minister of Finance Dr. F. W. Rowe was raising our prices above those of Nova Scotia). The reason given at the time, (and with a straight face yet) raising taxes on cigarettes would discourage smoking and thus result in a reduction in death by cancer!

If my memory is correct that increase put Nfld. prices 2 to 5 cents above those in the rest of Canada. As I stated above I did not know, earlier this month, how our retail prices compared with those of our sister provinces, but told my friends we would be on the look-out for such information which we'd pass on. Well a few days ago we came across the details in a Toronto paper and to say the least, were astonished at prices quoted for this province compared to the Canadian average. We felt it was most interesting and decided to pass the following on to our readers:

"Newfoundlanders now pay up to 35 per cent more for cigarettes than do smokers in British Columbia, where cigarettes are the cheapest in Canada and the provincial tax is lowest.

A survey by the Canadian Press found that cigarette prices vary widely from province to province, depending on provincial taxes and competition among wholesalers and retailers. Cigarette retail prices are going up by 1 cent a package or more, in all provinces this month. The major cigarette manufacturers raised their prices to wholesalers in December.

In some cases only the increase was passed on to the consumer, but in others additional charges were added. The price increase was about 1 cent a package at the manufacturers level but for consumers it is often 2 cents a package.

The price for a pack of 20 now is 60 cents in Newfoundland, compared with prices as low as 47 cents in Vancouver. The packs of 25 cost up to 75 cents in St. John's while the large pack can be bought for 59 cents in Vancouver.

The cost to wholesalers (including federal taxes) works out to about 35 cents a pack of 20. Transportation costs will affect the price delivered to wholesalers. Duty-free outlets, such as airport concessions, PAY ABOUT 12 CENTS FOR A PACK OF 20.

British Columbia is the only province that does not have a cigarette tax levied at the wholesale level. The province has a 5 per cent sales tax for most consumer items and this adds 2 cents to the price of a pack of 20. The low price of 47 cents includes the sales tax. In other provinces a cigaret tax is added at the wholesale level and sales taxes may be added when the smoker buys a pack over the counter. In Newfoundland, for example, the sales tax is 7 per cent. The tax added at the wholesale level is 10 cents for a pack of 20 in Newfoundland; 6.4 cents in Alberta and Saskatchewan; and 8 cents on a pack of 20 in the other provinces except British Columbia.

The following is a breakdown by province of over-the-counter prices: Newfoundland: The largest wholesaler in St. John's says an increase of 1 cent in the price of a pack of 20 has been passed on to retailers. Standard price in stores for pack of 20 is 60 cents while a pack of 25 costs 72 and 75 cents.

Nova Scotia: Sixty cents for a pack of 20 and 70 cents for 25 is the retail cost.

New Brunswick: The wholesale price went up slightly more than 1 cent for a large pack and retail prices went up by 2 cents. In stores, a pack of 20 costs 56 to 57 cents and a pack of 25 costs 67 to 69 cents.

Prince Edward Island: Standard retail price for 20 has been 56 cents and for 25 the price has been 67 cents. Some stores have added two cents to those prices since wholesale prices went up.

Quebec: Prices for small packs went up 1 cent and the range is 57 to 60 cents in most places. Two cents was added to the price of a large pack and 70 cents is the most common price.

Ontario: Over-the-counter prices range from 51 to 55 cents for 20 and 63 to 65 for 25. Price of the small pack went up 1 cent and large pack was raised two cents.

Manitoba: Retail prices at most stores are 53 cents for 20 and 63 to 70 cents for 25.

Saskatchewan: Retail prices have gone to 57 cents from 55 for 20 and to 67 cents from 65 for 25, in most stores.

Alberta: Wholesale prices went up by 1 cent and retail prices by 2 cents. Most stores charge 55 cents for 20 and 66 for 25.

British Columbia: Retail price range for 20 is 47 to 50 cents in Vancouver while 25 costs between 58 and 60 cents. Prices went up by about 1 cent a pack."

ED. NOTE (Shades of 1958 when as a United States, P.X. Manager we purchased cigarettes at 79 cents A CARTON for resale at $1.00).

Here 'n' There

NO GO ON SNOW: The operators of Schuss Mountain ski resort in Michigan will not let women drive snowmobiles because "there's only one thing worse than a woman driver, and that's a woman snowmobiler."

"Whenever a girl rents a snowmobile we expect trouble," Daniel R. Iannotti, president of the resort, said, adding that women force other snowmobiles off trails or into trees by going in the wrong direction or turning improperly.

ONE MINUTE TELEPHONE CALLS: That familiar three-minute minimum charge for long-distance telephone calls seems likely to give way soon to a one-minute minimum that, in some instances at least, could save you money. Major phone companies and their association, Trans-Canada Telephone System, are "very actively" reviewing this aspect of their long-distance system. Direct-distance telephones have inspired the idea of the change. Industry officials realize it doesn't make much sense to encourage a customer to dial his own long-distance calls if he has to pay for three minutes time, even when the person he wants isn't available. And a one-minute minimum would obviously be more attractive to a company wanting say, just 45 seconds of data.

"I don't know here that three-minute thing came from in the first place," one telephone official says. "I guess it's just like feet and inches, it's just there."

NEW GANDER SHOPPING MALL: After four years in the planning stages, preliminary work has now started on the construction of a new shopping mall in Gander. Mayor Douglas Sheppard said the town council has been interested in the construction of the shopping centre but it was not until recently that an agreement was signed between Sobeys Stores and Lundrigans Ltd. to co-sponsor the project. The cost is expected to run slightly over $2 million. Mayor Sheppard said that when completed, the mall will mean a 75% increase in revenue to the town through retail sales and will be a big step toward reducing the unemployment situation in Gander. He said he expects 100-150 men will be employed during construction with additional service people being hired after the centre opens. The mall is expected to be fully completed within an 18-month period, with the first opening for the two major stores, Sobeys and Metropolitan Stores, expected November 1, 1971.

FRENCH SIGNAL SYSTEM: Because telephones are still rationed in France, the ladies of little Vale de la Hay complained they couldn't call the doctor quickly in family emergencies. Dr. Robert Martin, 34, solved the problem by telling wives and mothers to run up a white flag on their housetops when they need him. Volunteers make the rounds and inform the doctor.

MASS BRAVERY: Provided he uses the right mouthwash and deodorant, the U.S. serviceman who does not win a decoration for bravery in Vietnam will probably survive, but only just. We cannot think, offhand, of a greater humiliation then to have served in that theatre and been found wanting of at least a small medal. Since 1961, 2,741,857 Americans have served in Vietnam and 2,143,364 awards for bravery have been made. How could you miss? By the end of 1970, for example, 490,058 Bronze Stars were awarded, 40,000 more than were presented in the Second World War. Remember, this does not include citations for bravery, that is, mentions in dispatches, or Purple Hearts. Is this a Gresham's Law applied to human courage, or is it just a fact that the more idiotic the conflict the more those responsible for it feel the need to decorate?

"INCORRECT TELEPHONE NUMBERS"

The Editor,
Aurora,
Labrador City, Nfld.

Dear Sir:

I sometimes wonder, where people were, when they were supposed to be learning of numbers, in school!

According to the "wrong number" calls I receive, quite a few of our local citizens, don't seem to know numbers; or, to be a bit more generous, they are very careless in dialing numbers.

At all times, ranging from 7.00 a.m. in the morning to 2.00 a.m. in the middle of the night, I receive "wrong number" calls. After checking with my friends, I am not the only one either!

Don't you think, people could be a bit more careful in dialing telephone numbers? After all, there is such a thing as shift work, and there is no need to wake people from their well earned sleep just because of carelessness.

I wonder, would people be more careful in this respect, if they would have to pay a dime for every call?

"LOCAL IMPROVEMENT IN WABUSH"

The Editor,
Aurora,
Labrador City, Nfld.

Dear Sir:

I would, as a resident and vehicle driver in Wabush, like to bring to your attention the deplorable condition of our streets. How long do you of the Local Improvement District intend to let our streets stay in their present condition.

A person isn't safe either walking or driving, a collision of two, or more vehicles is possible at every turn. Surely you can put something on our streets to help improve these driving conditions. Just drive along, Grenfell, Dunfield, Anderson or Whiteway if you have any doubts about the streets not being like a sheet of ice.

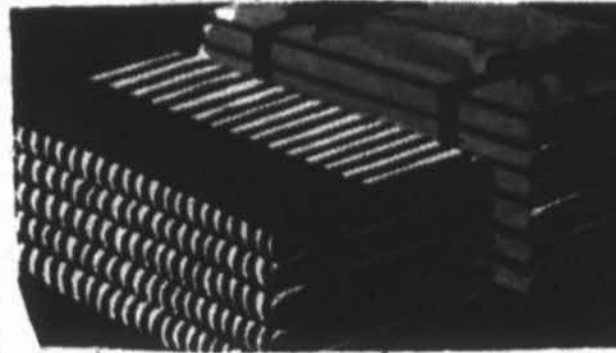

I'm sure our streets were meant to drive on, not skate on. I've never seen the streets in our Town in such a dangerous condition. A driver can't even see if there is any traffic coming along a street he wants to approach, because of the way you have the corners piled high with snow.

You haven't had to use much equipment so far this winter, so for safety sake, use a bit of salt now, before there is a serious accident, on our icy streets.

A Wabush Resident.

For your information

VETERANS AFFAIRS: Last week both local branches of the Royal Canadian Legion held their annual election of officers for 1971.

Officers of No. 47 Labrador City for the current year are: President, J.I. Robertson; Vice-President, J. Anderson; Secretary, J. Stirling; Treasurer, A. Bryans.

For No. 57 Wabush officers are: President, P.J. Walsh; Vice-President, J. Barrow; Secretary, R. Butler; Treasurer, T. Gillespie.

This will be an extremely important year for both clubs as they will be sponsoring jointly, the Bi-Annual Provincial Legion Convention, 6 thru 13 August. It is expected that approximately 400 people will be visiting the area for this event.

Aurora understands that a joint Ways & Means Committee has already been formed and are considering a draw which would be the biggest ever, in this Province.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE: The C.W.L. (L.C.) will be holding a card party and bake sale in the basement of the R.C. Church on Friday, February 5 at 8.30 p.m. Admission $1.00. Refreshments served. A prize consisting of dinner for two at the Sir Wilfred Grenfell Hotel will be drawn.

SWIMMING: Another Royal Life Saving Bronze Medallion Course will start at the Wabush Recreation Centre pool on Thursday February 11 at 9.00 p.m. Minimum age 14 years.

Participants must have Senior Red Cross Award or pass the senior test, as a prerequisite to acceptance. Registration forms are available at the Rec. Centre Office. For further information call 282-3142.

GUIDES & BROWNIES: The local association will be holding a Valentine Dance at the O'Brien Hall on Sunday, February 14. Music by "The Second Time Around." Tickets, at $5.00 double, available from Patrol Leaders or at the door. "HELP SEND OUR GIRLS TO CAMP."

RETARDED CHILDREN: The committee for the help of Retarded Children will be holding a meeting at the O'Brien Hall on Wednesday, February 3 at 8.00 p.m. Purpose of the meeting is to form a Labrador West Branch of the Provincial Association and elect a Board of Directors.

A number of persons have signified their willingness to serve as officers but more are welcomed. Anyone wishing to assist should contact Mr. A. Bradshaw at 944-2224 or Mrs. J. Moore at 944-2241.

All members of the general public are invited to attend this important meeting.

WINNER: The hand-knit Poncho Set, which was on display at Bowring's, was won by Miss Mary Collens, holder of ticket No. 161.

The Carol Players of Labrador City and Wabush have been selected to perform in the National Arts Centre in Ottawa at the 1971 National Festival.

Approximately twenty-five Canadian theatrical groups have been invited to participate by the Dominion Drama Festival National Festival 1971 Committee. Unlike past Dominion Drama Festival, there will be no adjudication or festival winners. Groups have not been chosen through regional competitions, but by a selection committee.

This is a particularly exciting opportunity for the Carol Players who will be presenting their own adaptation of Hammond Innes' novel THE LAND GOD GAVE TO CAIN. The play was adapted during the recent workshop under the direction of Patricia Carroll Brown who will also direct this production.

The novel is set in Labrador at the time of the building of the Quebec North Shore and Labrador Railway, and is therefore of special local interest to the people of Labrador City and Wabush. The Carol Players are proud to have this opportunity of bringing national attention to the Labrador which is an area so little known by many Canadians.

It is hoped that the people of the community will support the Carol Players in this venture, particularly in the raising of sufficient funds to enable the group to appear at the National Arts Centre. For information call: Miss Patricia Carroll Brown (Director) Miss Shiela White (President) or Miss S. Phillips (Secretary) 944-5302.

BIRTH: Congratulations to Mrs. Kevin Lewis of Labrador City on the birth of a son at St. Clare's Mercy Hospital, St. John's, Newfoundland, on Wednesday, January 13, 1971.

ACAPULCO: "I paid my own way so here's the truth about Acapulco." Written by a frustrated Toronto Traveller. Having made (3) trips to Acapulco in the past eight years (total vacation time 66 days) we pass on the following but certainly don't agree with it. In our opinion and experience it was most unfair.

"Every trade has its squalid little secrets. Some doctors chase ambulances. Some lawyers charge hundreds of dollars for work that takes a $65.00 a week articulated student half an hour to perform. And some journalists, it deeply pains me to admit, have been known to write nice things about people or places in return for, well, certain considerations. Hell, I've done it myself. I may, God forgive me, do it again sometime. So what you're about to read is a small exercise in making amends. I've just returned from a wholly unsubsidized two-week Mexican vacation. It cost my wife and me $422.00 for the airline tickets and about $800.00 for hotels, meals, drinks, trinkets, taxis and all the rest.

What follows, therefore, is the kind of Mexican piece you might read in the travel section of your average newspaper. IF the writer had actually undergone the novel experience of paying his own way:

ACAPULCO: Sun-spangled breakers crash on wide beaches the color of warm Cream-of-Wheat, while the sensuous strains of Spanish guitars waft gently through the crystalline air.

Is that the kind of holiday magic you're looking for? Well forget Acapulco, baby.

Acapulco is actually a giant, festering slum where automobile mufflers are apparently illegal, where the architecture ranges from Early Tijuana Whorehouse to Lake Miami Plastic where the cabdrivers all seem to be blood relatives of Emiliano Zapata, and where the most vivid local symbol is a slender palm, outstretched.

Acapulco is a nerve-jangling confluence of slinky beach boys, smelly streets, overpriced hotels, underdeveloped hotels, ugly Americans, snotty waiters, overcrowded beaches, horrendous traffic, persistent pimps, unsafe water, lonely homosexuals and frustrated typists from Minneapolis. The climate IS perfect. In season, meaning anytime the weather is unspeakable up north, Acapulco's weather is consistently heavenly.

The prices are heavenly too. Eight cents (one peso) for a package of smokeable cigarettes. Less than two dollars for a large snack for two of oysters, chicken tacos and cold Mexican beer. A dress or pantsuit from one of the boutiques on Calle Hidalgo for as little as $8.00, though your wife would gladly pay $40.00 for it in Toronto. Ten dollars a night double, with breakfast, at the height of the season, in a small hilltop hotel with swimming pool, good food and a friendly staff.

If you're smart enough to carve out your own little environment and sort of bury yourself in it, it's possible to have a good time in the place, restful or swinging, whichever you prefer.

But if your luck is bad, or your reservations are unfortunate, or your mood is sour, or your tolerance is low for crowds, rudeness, exhaust fumes and general hassle, the Acapulco can be a great big pain in the posterior. The trouble is, there are too damned many people, Acapulco's Mexican population is now about 100,000 and this is at least doubled in season by the hordes of gringos who have managed, with the Mexicans' eager co-operation, to despoil what must have been a lovely resort 20 years ago.

There are hotels, with private beaches and stratospheric prices, where you can luxuriate in a Hiltonized world and forget that the real Acapulco exists. But once you step out of that cocoon, you'll find yourself in a place that combines all the unpleasantness and inefficiency and pollution and general crudeness of Manhattan, all the naked yawping hordes of Coney Island, all the gastronomic facilities of Sauk Centre, Minnesota, all the unsightly contrasts between grinding poverty and bloated wealth that you'd find in New Delhi, the whole wrapped up in an inimitable, sunbaked sleaziness that is uniquely Mexican. So my advice, travel fans, is to skip Acapulco. You might enjoy yourself, but I'd say the odds are stacked against you.

There, I've said it and I'm glad. But on reflection, perhaps it's a good thing that journalists are such a venal lot of globe-trotting free-loaders. If they all paid their own way and came back to tell what the place is really like, who'd travel anywhere?"

Our only comment on this article: "There are two things right with Acapulco, the climate and the prices," says the writer and my reply, "what more do you want."

Scanning the Market

HIGHER TREND IN SHARE PRICES FORECAST: Canadian stock market prices should trend higher during 1971 as the federal Government continues initiatives to "re-expand" the economy, according to a Montreal firm of consulting economists. "There is nothing to encourage a reversal of (current) central bank policy in the foreseeable future," it says in a stock market and business forecast.

The firm notes that all domestic economic cyclical indicators remain favorable, "providing evidence that the ground work is at present being laid for renewed economic expansion and sub-stained recovery in the capital markets during the months ahead." It cautions that Canada's economic recovery could be accompanied by some renewed price inflation. "The re-expansion of business has been fostered by major monetary stimulation and a re-emergence of price inflation later in 1971 or 1972 can be expected."

The probability of renewed price inflation make the bond market unattractive from a long-run viewpoint. During the last quarter of 1970, the economy was running about 6 per cent below its potential level of output. To reach full employment during 1974, the economy would have to expand at an annual rate of 7 per cent. "This is faster than the actual growth rate from 1960-65 when the economy was also pulling out of a recession. In other words, for the economy to recover to the full employment level by as late as 1974 implies fairly optimistic assumptions."

A sharp increase in housing starts is viewed as a major area of strength in the economy. Government spending is another, but business expenditures on plant, equipment and inventories are not expected to give any real boost to the economy for a number of months. Consumer spending may also continue sluggish.

AURORA, LABRADOR, JANUARY 27, 1971 - 7

Noting a continuation of a slow rate of growth in loans during the final months of 1970, the firm suggests that this kind of trend has, traditionally, been indicative of major bull markets. Among its conclusions on Canadian economic trends, the firm says: "The process of improvement began last summer and by early fall the main cyclical indicators had swung positively and since then they have extended these trends. The movement of these indices over the past several months gives a high degree of confidence that we have seen the lows in this cycle." In a review of the international economic scene, the Montreal economist predict that the outflow of funds from the United States to foreign countries will accelerate during the coming months. "The effect of the sharp drop in U.S. yields has been to widen sharply the yield differentials between domestic and foreign rates." The review suggests the United States is exporting inflation to other countries. The effect to date of the increased outflow of U.S. capital funds has been to place upward pressure "on virtually every currency in the industrialized world and this should continue."

Because of the outflow of capital from the United States, the review is pessimistic over the outlook for international financial stability. "As the months go by, with no end in sight to the growing U.S. payments deficit and the chronically weak dollar, the chance will increase that some country or countries will try to free themselves from the dollar standard."

It recommends an investment policy for "conservative portfolios" to include: 35-40 per cent in common stocks; 20 per cent in gold stocks and the balance in reserves.

The pound should remain "in reasonable shape" as long as U.S. monetary expansion remains intact. British stock markets have not recently reflected an expanding money and credit environment and equity prices there should soon begin to reflect this.

Japanese equities are considered to be unattractive. The Japanese Government give no indication of a pending stimulation of domestic credit.

NO DEAD ROOM: About 1,000 bodies are awaiting burial at Rome's Vero cemetery due to lack of space, Mayor Clelio Darida said earlier this month. He said 11,700 new graves are under construction and the backlog should be eliminated within two months.

Dr. Sandy's-Wynch (center) was a recent visitor to Labrador City and addressed members of the local branch of the Humanities Association. To the left is Mr. Clar Doyale and right Mr. Jim Dunn, President of the Labrador West Branch.

CP AIR ELEMENATING SMOKE FROM JETLINERS: CP Air announced earlier this month it has launched a program that will hopefully eliminate smoke emitted from all its Boeing jetliners by the end of 1972. Mr. J.C. Gilmer, President of the airline, said in a statement that the airline's board of directors recently approved a $225,000 capital appropriation to equip all 29 Pratt and Whitney JT8-D engines with modified combustion chambers that will substantially reduce the black exhaust from the 737 and 727 aircraft.

MEN'S PANTYHOSE: Maybe men are just thoroughly tired of seeing women make fashionable new fad out of garments that are traditionally masculine (like trousers, sport shirts and even denim jackets.) Anyway, Rick Goodman of Toronto, proprietor of a three-store group of women's hosiery shops called Crazylegs, stuck signs in his shop windows advertising panty hose for men, and sold all 80 pairs (at $7.95) the first day. Produced in the U.S. under the brand name Mani-Hose, the unmannish-sounding garments are (says Goodman) ideal for firemen, policemen, postmen, skiers and other outdoor he-men because they're warmer than thermal underwear, sturdier than women's panty hose (100 denier nylon vs women's 15 denier) and look better on the leg than longjohns when the trousers ride up the calf (ribbing from the knee down makes them look like socks). "At first I thought of them as just a gimmick," says Goodman, "but now I'm convinced they're going to be a staple item. I've ordered another 25 dozen."

1,000 PART TIME JOBS AVAILABLE IN NFLD: Close to 1,000 people are expected to be hired for a four to five week period beginning in June to help gather information for the 1971 Canada-wide, census. E.W. Hutchings, regional director for the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in Newfoundland, says the 1971 census will begin on June 1, and this huge temporary workforce will be employed to assist in the door-to-door canvas for information. The figure includes some 42 census commissioners who will supervise the census-taking in areas designated to them.

The lighter side

THE LOVING TOUCH: A buxom girl was busy over a tub of clothes in the yard. A soldier passing by spied her and thinking to have a little fun walked up behind her and kissed her on the neck. She kept on scrubbing. A sailor who had watched the proceedings strolled over and did likewise, but she kept on scrubbing. An old mule who was grazing across the road ambled over and licked her neck from ear to ear. Without turning the girl said in a shrill voice: "Will the last gentleman please leave his name and address?"

REDS vs GREENS: Two apples up in a tree were looking down on the world. "Look at all those people," said one apple, "fighting, robbing and killing each other. Someday, us peaceful and quiet apples will be the only ones left, and then we'll rule the world."

To which the second apple responded, "You're absolutely right! Which one of us, by the way, the reds or the greens?"

COFFEE BREAK: A newcomer to the nudist camp noticed a man with a long beard. "I thought beards were taboo around here," the newcomer remarked. The other replied, "Somebody has to go for coffee."

THE SURPRISED FATHER: Two Canadian sailors in Sweden decided to go to church one Sunday morning, even though they couldn't speak a word of the language. To be sure they wouldn't be conspicuous they sat behind a prim looking middle-aged man and did everything he did during the service. The service seemed to be over, but the minister added a brief remark, whereupon the man-in-front stood up, and so did the sailors, causing quite some consternation in the church. Later the minister met them at the door and greeted them in English. "What did we do wrong that caused the commotion?" one of the sailors asked. "Well," the embarrassed minister explained. "At the end of the service I announced a coming baptismal, and then I asked the father of the child to stand!"

FROM THE LONDON OBSERVER: "The militant females of Florida have found a new cause for concern, hurricanes. In the past, these natural wreckers have always been given female names like Donna, Betsy, Hazel and Joan. Now the Women's Lib ladies are fighting the slur and campaigning for a law that at least 50 per cent are named after men."

RESTFUL: A man went to a resort for his health, but unfortunately died there. His body was shipped back home and as his widow was viewing his remains, a friend remarked, "Doesn't he look wonderful?"

"Yes," replied the widow, "I think those two weeks in the resort did him a world of good."

QUADRUPLE VISION: A pair of identical twins, dressed exactly alike, ordered drinks at the bar. A drunk staggered by, took a long look at them, then shuddered and ordered himself another drink.

"Take it easy, feller," said one of the twins. "You're not seeing things, we happen to be identical twins."

"All four of you?"

SCAB: The young bride of six weeks, was letting off steam. "All I do is wait on you hand and foot," she complained. "And what do I get for it?" the husband maintained complete silence.

"Just suppose," the irate wife continued, "that we wives went on strike. What would you do then?"

"Well now, you just go right ahead and strike," the husband replied quietly. "I have a honey of a strike-breaker in mind!"

THE ANTIQUE: Woman to salesman: "This must be an old piano. The keys are yellow."

"Madam," replied the salesman, "the piano really isn't old. It's just that the elephant was a heavy smoker."

SOUTH OF THE BORDER: The old Mexican and his strapping son were walking down the road leading their burro. At a crossroad someone said, "What a fine healthy Burro to be doing nothing . . . one of you should ride him." So the son got on and rode. Another crossroad, and a crowd of people, one of whom cried out, "Such an ungrateful . . . riding while his poor old father walks!" So the father climbed on with the son and they both rode. At the next crossroad, some animal lover called out, "For shame, two such big men on a poor little donkey . . . you should carry HIM for a while." So the father and son tied the burro's legs together, put a pole between them, and carried him. They came to a wild mountain stream and a rickety bridge, which broke under the weight of the three. Father and son swam to safety, but the poor burro with tied feet drowned, to the sorrow of the two men. This only goes to show that if you try to please everybody, you'll soon lose your ass . . .

Speaking of Sports

ED NOTE: Illness is responsible for a shortage of up-to-date news this week, especially on Arena activities.

HOCKEY: Over two thousand fans enjoyed the series between our "Carol Lakers" and the Provincial Winter Games team "Terra Novas" played at the L.C. Arena recently. Following the exhibition games (which were split 7-5,3-6), Coach Byrne made his final cuts and announced his full squad for Sask. According to several local all-star players this team while small in stature, should give a good "rough" account of themselves at the Winter Games.

We have little new to report on the senior leagues but understand standings have tightened up a bit more. Looking at some recent statistics we noticed our "B" league must be one of the most defensive played, in the country. In the first 22 games only 142 goals were scored, just over 6 per game, and in the goals against column but 30 were registered against the Huskies in 15 games. Possibly the most surprising figure of all was that in winning only 2 of 14 games the Juniors were scored upon just 4.2 times per outing.

MINOR HOCKEY: Jan. 23 - Jan. 29 is Minor Hockey Week in Canada and here as in hundreds of other towns and cities throughout the nation, tournaments and special events were held during this week.

The extent of the popularity of minor hockey in Canada may be gauged by the attendance at the PeeWee Tournament held in Quebec City last winter which drew 144,876 spectators.

The following are the latest statistics:

Huskies	11	7	2	2	16
Hawks	11	7	2	2	16

RESIGNS POST: Princess Alice, the 87-year-old Countess of Athlone and widow of a former Canadian Governor-General, sailed for Jamaica earlier this month on what may be her last journey as chancellor of the University of the West Indies, a post she has held for 21 years. William Hickey in his London Daily Express column said the princess, great-aunt of the Queen, has given way to pressure from black militants who criticized a "Limey" holding the post. Princess Alice said she would resign as soon as a successor was chosen.

Mind teaser

If 7 less than 8 times a certain number minus twice that number equals 6 more than twice the number, what is that certain number?

ANSWER

3-1/4. Letting X equal the number, form equation: 8X minus 7 minus 2X equals 2X plus 6. Solve for X.

SCANNING THE MARKET

Consumer prices in Japan continue to rise at an annual rate of about 8 per cent. Although Australia's credit contraction is rated mild, the climate for equity investment there is not yet considered to be attractive.

Investment prospects in West Germany are rated unfavorable. "Business statistics in the most recent period show that the extreme pressure of the economic boom is cooling off. New orders are down and so are unfilled vacancies."

Although giving a "neutral" rating to equity investment in France, the review suggests the country has become "a prime candidate for an upgraded investment forecast in the months ahead."
