Editorially Speaking

SECOND CLASS CITIZENS: Over recent months we thought we had detected a better understanding by government and various organization on the island toward Labrador. However two recent incidents have punctured that idea. Last week the C.B.C. "Assignment-Entertainment" had a report by a Miss or Mrs. A. Baker from St. John's. The lady covered two main points in her five minute program.

the completion of Culture Centre's in Grand Falls, Gander and Grand Bank, this Province would have the highest per capital, of such centres in Canada. (2). In a review of the recent drama festival in Corner Brook the reporter felt that only the two St. John's productions were worthy of mention. And took the Canada Festival Committee to task for inviting the Carol Players of Labrador City to perform "The Land God Gave to Cain," in Ottawa next month.

The three new Culture Centres are being erected at Provincial taxpayers expense. In the case of both the $9.0 million complex in St. John's and Corner Brook's building, large Federal grants were made. While we don't begrudge these areas having new centres of culture; we do question the fact that no effort has been made to have such a building constructed in this area. I would venture to say taxes collected in Labrador West last year equal and possibly surpass collections from Grand Falls, Gander, and Grand Bank combined. Aurora believes the status of such a centre for Labrador City-Wabush, should be more fully investigated.

As regards having the Carol Players presenting their production in the Nation's Capital, it seems to us the position by M. Baker sounds like petty jealousy. I'm sure the lady is aware the local drama group represented the Atlantic Province in the National Finals held in Winnipeg during the spring of 1970. Also that this was the first time in a number of years a group from Newfoundland was chosen as one of the finalist.

To us it seemed only logical that the best drama group in the four Atlantic Provinces last year, should be asked to perform in Ottawa this year, especially when the selection was made some months ago.

The second subject that came to our attention was a rather lengthy interview given by the President of the Newfoundland Amateur Hockey Association Mr. Claude Anstey and published in the St. John's Daily News of 13 April. In a three column sports story the only reference to Labrador was. "Q. Is there any discussion about the possibility of a team from Labrador entering senior competition? A. It would be too expensive unless travel could be subsidized by the government."

A few days before this article appeared the Provincial Government made a direct grant, in excess of $100,000.00 to cover the main cost of repairs and renovations to the Grand Falls Stadium. Aurora feels that if funds of that magnitude can be disbursed, it should certainly be possible to pay for air travel.

I have heard from a number of local hockey fans that the untimely conclusion of the "A" league finals has probably killed local senior hockey for the next couple of years. Therefore it might be advisable to investigate the possibility of entering the Provincial Senior League, especially when the Provincial Government seems so generous with our tax dollars.

UNHAPPY END

TO

The Editor,
The Aurora
Labrador City
Newfoundland

Dear Sir:

On Sunday, April 11, Wabush (Grenfell Huskies) were presented with the L.C.A.H.A. playoff trophy for defeating the Saints (two games to two) in a best of seven series.

They accepted the trophy and proceeded to the Sir Wilfred Grenfell Hotel for a victory party. And what a great victory it was. I'm sure all the players and their fans (which I have to add were the greatest and most loyal fans any team could hope for) must be really proud of this victory. After such a great season and the best season the Wabush team have ever had, with a good shot at legitimately winning the series; they bowed to the executive and proudly accepted the trophy by default.

There are a lot of people (fans) in both Labrador City and Wabush who are quite confused as to what is going on. As far as can be understood, the executive, Saints and Huskies are all being very childish about the whole affair. It all started when the Carol Lakers arrived back from the Island after winning the Inter, "A" Series. There was a game scheduled for Wednesday, April 7th. On the 6th the executive held a meeting and confirmed that this game would go ahead and had it announced over the P.A. system while a "B" League game was in progress. Upon leaving the meeting, they were met by some members of the All-Star team, who asked the executive that the game for the following night be cancelled. This game was immediately cancelled (I guess it should be said that all these players were members of the Huskies). The Saints were then NOTIFIED, not consulted but the Quebec government, said it had recently received an order from Aerofall Mills Ltd. for two crushers to be delivered to Iron Ore Co. of Canada. This equipment, with a value of around $750,000.00, will provide jobs for 60 men during six months. The crushers will be installed at Iron Ore's mill in Labrador.

SINGER EDDIE FISHER DEBT FREE: Recently a bankruptcy court in San Juan, P.R. freed singer Eddie Fisher of nearly $1 million in debts. Fisher, 42, filed bankruptcy there last year. He listed $916,300.00 notified of this change. When asked, why the change, they were led around the bush.

Due to a few of their key players going out of town for the Easter weekend and the following week, the Saints asked for a postponement until Tuesday, April 20. The reason for this long delay, is some of the players would be travelling to the island with the Pee-Wee, Bantam and Midgets for the Provincial Minor Hockey League playoffs. They would not be returning until the 16th and on that day the All Stars would be leaving again. But this was termed as a feeble excuse by the executive and the request was denied.

Then without any embarrassment or without any thoughts of how this would hurt Hockey, the executive presented the trophy to Wabush, with the series tied at two games apiece. What seems to be puzzling most people is how two games could be defaulted when only one game was scheduled. If the Huskies were given the game on Sunday night, by default; they would still only be ahead 3 games to 2. Yet they were given the series.

Another puzzling factor is how a game would be defaulted when there were not any referees present at the start of the game. This was the case of the game which was supposed to take place on Sunday, the 11th. Most fans in both towns are quite disgusted with the whole mess and would like to have seen this handled in a better way.

Hockey was on a comeback here and with Wabush getting their Arena, it was sure to get better. But you can bet this deed did more harm to Hockey than anything that has happened here before. The executive could be blamed for it all but both teams played a major role in the whole disgusting mess. All that can be said now is "Congratulations to the Lab. City Hockey Assoc."

in debts and $40,000.00 in assets in municipal bonds held by the Bank of America as security for a loan. Fisher said the only property he disposed of prior to filing his petition was a car.

SHORT OF CASH: Canada's single-parent families need more money, subsidized housing and day care services, according to a report prepared for the Vanier Institute of the Family. The 202-page report, to be published this month, was submitted by Doris Guyatt, a doctoral student at the University of Toronto School of Social Work.

PARKING PROBLEMS LABRADOR CITY SHOPPING AREA

The Editor,
The Aurora,
Dear Sir:

I would like to voice my complaints about the parking problem around the Carol shopping area.

I refer in particular to the area directly in front of the stores. Employees working in these stores park their cars, in front of the establishments, and the cars are there until they go to lunch, and the same thing after lunch until quitting time in the evening. People buying groceries, etc., have to park their cars across the street and have to push grocery carts across in front of vehicles, through the main thoroughfare.

Proper parking facilities should be provided for store employees, so that the general public might have a chance of finding a parking place when they go shopping.

In the area in front of the Post Office, Banks and general area to Woolworth's store; cars are parked all day long (the same cars). Also the area directly in front of Bowring's. This is very bad on Thursday nights and Fridays when many people go shopping. Why it's almost impossible to find a parking place.

Something should be done to get this straightened out, and give the buying public half a chance.

Yours truly,
Clayton Austin

ED. NOTE: Aurora operates as a weekly newspaper under Federal Second Class Mail Registration No. 2335. Regulation state that "Letters To The Editor" must bear the name and address of the writer. However the person may request the name not be published.

We have received several letters this year and indeed only last week a submission signed "Labrador City Fan" (in connection with Hockey) which did not have the name and address of the writer. These we are unable to print. If "Labrador City Fan" will furnish his or her name and address we will insert in our next edition.

The lighter side

MAJOR OPERATION: "Boy, did I have a time last night!" George related to Bill. "Wonderful girl. After the dance, we parked at Inspiration Point. I asked her for a kiss. She told me I could have all the kisses I wanted if I'd put the top down so that we could enjoy the moonlight. So I went to work and got the top down in about an hour and then..." "An hour?" exclaimed Bill. "Why, I can take mine down in about two minutes."

"I know that," replied George, "but you have a convertible!"

VERY PATRIOTIC: from the London Daily Mirror: "Eight blind and partly blind people taking a cookery course, sing the national anthem while they fry bacon. The instructor said 'I get them to sing God Save the Queen, which takes about two minutes. When they have sung it, they turn the bacon over and sing it again.'"

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS: A SHAPELY blonde answered the telephone in her apartment one afternoon.

"City Hall," she said. There was no sound at the other end of the line. "City Hall," repeated the girl. Still no reply. Finally, after the third time, a rather nervous female voice asked:

"Is this really City Hall?"

"That's right, madam," replied the blonde. "With whom do you wish to speak?"

There was an embarrassed silence. Then the female voice at the other end of the line said:

"I guess nobody. I just found this number in my husband's pocket."

As the blonde hung up, she turned to a man who was reclining on the couch with a martini in his hand.

"You're a wizard!" she exclaimed. "The smartest thing you ever did was to get me to change my name to City Hall!"

THE FAIRY: Sitting in a dentist's reception room were a mother and child. A patient in his early 20s left the office and walked through the lobby. He was dressed in sandals and tunic, draped in beads, and adorned with shoulder-length locks. As he left, the youngster turned to his mother and asked: "Was that the tooth fairy?"

FORGIVE AND FORGET: A woman visited a marriage counselor and told him she was contemplating divorce. "It's all over," she said. "Three times now I've found my husband with another woman."

"Remember," the counselor told her, "no marriage can work unless both parties are willing to forgive and forget."

"That's the trouble," the woman said. "Every time he promises never to look at another woman, 'I forgive — and he forgets!'"

NOT SO HOT: A budding young poet sent examples of his work to an editor with the note; "Please let me know at once if you can use these for I have other irons in the fire."

The editor wrote back: "Suggest you remove irons and insert poems."

MORE TARGET PRACTICE REQUIRED: "Your wife will probably hit the ceiling when you get home tonight," the barfly said to his companion. "Yeah. She's a lousy shot!"

NO MILK: An enterprising salesman was trying to persuade a farmer to buy a bicycle. The farmer was in town for the day and was determined to see everything.

"I'd rather spend my money on a cow," he said finally.

"But just think," insisted the salesman, "what a fool you'd look, riding about on a cow."

"Not half such a fool," answered the farmer, "as I'd look trying to milk a bicycle!"

THE START OF A GOOD CONVERSATION: "I've got a lot of things I want to talk to you about this evening," a wife said to her husband.

"Good," sighed hubby. "Usually you want to talk about a lot of things you haven't got."

A TOUGH DIET: The man was sitting at the lunch counter busily scribbling figures on a piece of paper. The Cafeteria owner became curious and asked him what he was doing.

"My wife is on a diet," replied the man, "and she told me she's losing four pounds a week."

"So?" queried the owner.

"So, if my figures are correct," explained the man, "I'll be completely rid of her in about eighteen months."

SIMPLE ARITHMETIC: The old-timer was being interviewed on his birthday. "To what do you attribute the fact that you have lived to be 89 years of age?" asked the reporter.

The old man quickly shot back: "Primarily because I was born in 1882."

TRUE LOVE: During one of their spats, the angry wife shouted, "You didn't have to marry me you know!"

"Well, now," countered her husband, "We weren't so sure at the time, were we?"

It was announced earlier this month by Bowaters Newfoundland Ltd. that they will further curtail operations because of market conditions. The mill will close for a period of two weeks next month and about three weeks in July and that it may also revert back to a six-day work-week from the present seven-day work-week. Sources say that if the mill went back to a six-day work week 250 men may be affected, since this was the number required to support the extra shift when it went on the seven-day work-week about six years ago. So far during 1971 there have been two shutdowns because of market conditions.

OUT OF BOUNDS:

Marina Caputo, 17, of Rome, was dressing in her bedroom when the floor fell in. She and the plaster and furniture landed in the apartment below, Miss Caputo was not injured but wept, "How will I ever explain this to my father? He's a very serious professor and doesn't like me going out without his permission."

THEY CALL IT "BUREAUPATHY": West German physicians have defined a new disease syndrome that afflicts only office workers. Bureaupathy, or office sickness, is the tendency of physically sedentary workers to develop such ailments as lumbago, varicose veins, indigestion, hemorrhoids and ulcers. Vigorous daily exercise breaks to restore muscle tone are prescribed as the cure.

BIG GOVERNMENT JOBS: You're entitled to look askance at anybody who tells you he has just landed a well-paid government job. A big firm of management consultants in Toronto says executive jobs are woefully scarce in many sectors of private business and industry, but federal and provincial governments are still hiring merrily away, often at attractive salaries. The result is that many an out-of-work executive who might have sworn, a few years ago, that he'd join a breadline before he'd become a civil servant has swallowed his pride and accepted a job from an "employer of last resort."

THE BIBLE TODAY

"A constructive atmosphere for our work" is how Mrs. Barbara Enholc Narzynska describes conditions in predominantly Roman Catholic Poland, where she is Executive Secretary of the Bible Society.

The Polish Society has experienced steady growth in Scripture distribution. A record high of nearly 204,000 copies was set in 1969 up from 122,630 copies the previous year. "Illiteracy has been banished, and this creates a wider opportunity for the distribution of literature," according to Mrs. Enholc-Narzynska. "The Churches have full freedom to do their task, including teaching religion to children."

When she succeeded her father, Mr. Alexander Enholc, in 1967, Mrs. Enholc-Narzynska became the first woman to hold the top office of a Bible Society. Her work includes the local production of Gospel Portions and the binding of New Testaments. A standing license allows for importing 200,000 copies of Scripture each year.

DAILY LIGHT BY D.R. PARSONS

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. Hebrews 11:1.

Do you have a problem? Are you facing some special test at the present time, perhaps a physical test, or a financial problem, or trouble of some other kind? Then it's a good time to remember the words of Jesus, found in Mark 11:22, "Have faith in God."

If you say, "That's just the problem, my faith is weak," you can take courage in the fact that this verse actually emphasizes the faithfulness of the Lord rather than men's faith in Him. Students of the Greek language tell us the literal meaning of these words in Mark 11:22 is, "Hold God's faithfulness." In other words, count on His faithfulness. Depend upon Him to help you.

You can be calm and confident in the face of every difficulty or danger if you "hold God's faithfulness." There are numerous other Scripture verses to support this significant interpretation of Christ's words. In Romans 3:3, for example, "the faith of God" clearly means God's faithfulness.

And "hold" is so rendered in Matthew 21:26 which says, "All hold John as a prophet." In one parallel passage (Mark 11:32) it is rendered "counted." In another (Luke 20:6) a different word is used and it reads, "They be persuaded that John was a prophet."

How beautifully these three words emphasize the blessed truth of our Heavenly Father's faithfulness toward His children. In daily life we should count upon it. At all times and under all circumstances we should be fully persuaded of the fact.

Faith is a basic requirement in human life. Faith gives strength, poise, and zest for every enterprise. We are often told that faith is a quality we should develop, but it is not always clear what the basis of our faith should be. Is it faith in Man? Faith in luck? Faith in faith itself? Or is it faith in God?

Faith is no better than its object. Though it may stimulate a person temporarily, faith will eventually lead to disillusionment, discouragement, and defeat if its grounds are unreliable. Here, however is a basis for a lasting faith. No one who puts his trust in God's faithfulness will ever be disappointed.

Hebrews chapter 11, is known as the faith chapter of the Bible, it tells us of many who, holding God's steadfastness, had faith and by it "subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waved valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens." (Hebrews 11:33,34).

The apostles held God's faithfulness and in the strength of this faith were not daunted by the hostility of the heathen nor the persecution they encountered.

All God's spiritual giants have been men who won great battles because they reckoned His faithfulness to see them through to victory. He will not let you down. Count on His help. Have faith in His faithfulness. "Have faith in God."

STOLEN VEHICLES: We have been advised by the R.C.M.P. that recently there has been a rash of stolen motor vehicles, with six reports within a five day period. And in at least one case fairly extensive damage resulted. In all incidents drivers had left their keys in the vehicle.

Motorist are reminded that it is an offense under the Highway Traffic Act to leave keys in the ignition of an unattended vehicle. The police have not taken action under provision of the Act because of the cold winter weather. However local drivers are now advised that it will be necessary to prosecute in order to protect lives and property.

Speaking of Sports

Sorry we have a rather condensed column this week, but several of our prime sources of information are out of town. Hope to have final details on several winter activities, next week.

HOCKEY: The most talked about conclusion to a Senior Hockey season is now history and it is not the intent of this column to comment further. However we would suggest to the Senior Executive that they release a prepared statement covering the activities of "A" Hockey in this area, covering the period 1 to 11 April 1971. Aurora feels it only fair that players and fans be given all the facts. We'd be glad to publish such a release, in full, in our next edition. As we go to press the Carol Lakers have finally departed for Bathurst, N.B. Results in our next issue.

Minor Hockey: At this writing all teams were doing very well on the island. In the Pee-Wee "A 2 at Gander the team were 4 wins 1 loss. In the Bantam "B" at Port aux Basques, the local boys were 1 win 1 tie 1 loss. And at Clarendville in the Midget "B" they had a perfect 4 wins - no loss record. So by the looks of things, by the time this paper is published the local stars may have copped one or more Provincial Championships.

We understand the Mosquito finals came to a "heated finish" last week. Don't have all the details but it seems the word sportsmanship was forgotten by some of the spectators.

LABRADOR CITY AND WABUSH SENIOR BASKETBALL LEAGUE

The league regular season came to a dramatic end last night at the Labrador City Lions defeated Wabush's Perry's Maintenance team by a score of 55-54. It was a closely matched contest as the lead changed hands 8 times in the last 10 minutes. Leading Lions to their victory and a first place finish was Mike Murphy who netted 22 pts. He was helped by team mate Bruce Randell who had 18. High for Wabush were Barry Hatt and Gerry Barron who had 18 and 19 respectively. The win enabled the Lions to obtain the bye into final for the league championship forcing Bowings Bullets to face the Wabush team in the Semi-Final round which is best of 3. Lions were given the nod for first place because in season regular play they outplayed Bullets 4-3 in victories.

Final league statistics are as follows:

QUEBEC-TELEPHONE: Quebec-Telephone of Rimouski, Que. plans to spend $70 million on plant and equipment between 1971 and 1974. The company plans to borrow $26 million of the total. Quebec-Telephone is 55 per cent controlled by Anglo-Canadian Telephone Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary of General Telephone and Electronics Corp. of New York.

RICH BREW: After unpacking in the Swiss holiday home her husband rented, Mary Lolling decided to make tea. She poured boiling water into the tea pot, and $285.00 in foreign bills floated to the top. The widower who had rented the apartment to the Lollings had not known his wife kept a secret bank account in the tea pot.

U.K. BIRTHS UP: The birth rate in England and Wales last year shot up for the first time in six years—mainly because of a scare over the contraceptive pill, a government report says. Births in the last quarter of 1970 totalled 191,000, a 4 per cent increase over the comparable period in 1969. The increase, the first since births started plunging in 1965, came nine months after a government committee on drugs advised against the use of 19 of the 31 brands of pill available.

OFF SEASON BARGAINS: Members of the Barbados Tourist Board were in Montreal recently to tell the travel trade and writers about their Bonanza Package that will become available in May with prices for eight days and seven nights as low as $280 from Toronto. The carrier is BWIA International which doesn't fly into Montreal.

The GIT air fare alone is $210 from Toronto and return, $165 from New York, which would certainly be more convenient for local travellers. If you happen to be in Miami it's $135.00. The accommodations in Barbados are in 39 hotels and apartments and the lowest rate is $71.00 per person double occupancy in some hotels and apartments without meals. With breakfast and dinner, the rates start at $99.00 for the week.

There are a number of bonus items, free admission to entertainment at a hotel, a cocktail cruise, 20 minutes of water skiing, an hour's sailing in a Hobie Cat or 90 minutes in a Sun Fish, tours and the like, any two of which are available to a customer. At certain hotels and apartments bonus Dine-A-Round coupons are included in the package rate. The coupon is worth $5.00 and may be used at any of the Bonanza hotels towards the cost of meals. Other coupons can be purchased in advance through travel agents.

BAHAMA BARGAINS: For the first time this year, the Bahama Islands have inclusive tour-charter programs, which offer a week's holiday in Nassau of Freeport for $189-$199. Prices are for three-bed-rooms, and all-inclusive except for lunch and dinner daily. Departure tax from the islands is now $3.00.

PACIFIC COAST, MEXICO: Acapulco is a pleasant spot in April and May.

Best hotels are Pierre Marques (beautiful beach, out of town, great golf), Las Brisas (unique hillside spot, Ville Vera (in the hills, too, with fine tennis courts), and Malibu (in town on the beach, a la Hollywood). The Hilton is good-lively, crowded, in the hub. Top restaurants: Normandie, Portofino, Chateau Vic's (all international), and Paradise seafood. Night spots are strictly drinks-and-discotheque: Le Club, Le Dome, Tequila a Go-Go-Go. In fishing, it's sailfish and marlin. Things to avoid: spicy foods, street vendors (they cheat), and coats at dinner.

CANADA'S FIRST NATIONAL JUMBO-JET SERVICE:

The $23-million jumbo ($25 million with additional engines and spare parts goes into regular service 25 April on Toronto-Vancouver run. On 1 June, the 737 will be placed in the Toronto-London service, and from 1 July will also fly the Toronto-Montreal - Frankfurt route.

The 710,000-pound 747s will give Air Canada greater flexibility in serving a fluctuating market. (Air Canada will have 3 before year end). With introduction of the 747 to the Toronto - Vancouver run, passenger capacity will be jumped to 365 from 198 available in the stretched DC-8. When peak demand moves to other runs, a regular DC-8, with 132 seats, may be scheduled on the transcontinental service, while the jumbo follows — or rather, carries — the crowd.

The 747 will also give Air Canada more freight-carrying muscle. The 747 carries 20 tons, vs nine tons carried by the stretched DC-8. Terminal handling is speeded by packing cargo in containers for fully mechanized loading. Even mail and baggage will be container-packaged.

Right up to next week, pilots will be trained in the handling and "feel" of the new jumbo. Ground crews are learning new servicing techniques, and aerial maitre d's will learn management of a flight service of 14 pursers and stewardesses, who in turn will adjust to the running of the plane's three galleys. Also, terminal employees are undergoing classroom work and practicing the dry runs that precede revenue flights that could bring into a terminal close to 400 passengers and their baggage in a single flight.

LATE SPRING - EARLY SUMMER TOURS: BOAC'S holiday tours for the coming season now are lined up, and booklets can be had from the airline or agents. There are 11 choices, three more than in 1970, of individual and group travel both in Britain and the Continent. Ireland is a new addition. With one exception, all are based on low group fares, and most departures are twice weekly.

If charter arrangements do not take a traveler to his eventual destination, this type of tour (provided also by some other airlines) in some instances can be less expensive. Travel agents can advise.

ST. LAWRENCE CRUISES: The S.S. Varna, of Bulgarian registry and carrying 500 passengers, will return to St. Lawrence River cruise service on 12 June, sailing from Montreal each Saturday for the Saguenay and St. Pierre - Miquelon through Labor Day. She will be joined on 3 July by the Polish - registered 400-passenger S.S. Stephen Batory for a month-long series of cruises; and a third vessel may be added during the peak period.

CUP AIR AND AIR CANADA TO SHARE PLANES? It may be pretty hard to picture, but there's a real possibility that Air Canada and its arch rival, CP Air, could be getting together to share airplanes. The possibility has been created by the enormous capacity of the 350-passenger jumbo jet. CP Air President John Gilmer recently sounded out some senior Air Canada executives on the idea of the two airlines sharing a jumbo jet. The idea, he reports, was well received. Behind the suggestion is this fact of airline traffic: Air Canada customarily has heavy loads across the North Atlantic during the summer, while CP has heavy loads during the winter between Western Canada and Hawaii. Gilmer thinks the jumbo jets that help move Air Canada's traffic in the summer could be used for his line's heaviest traffic to Hawaii. And there's a very good reason why it's Gilmer who's been doing the suggesting. Air Canada will take delivery of three 747 jumbos this year, but CP Air has not ordered any jumbos.

STICK & GLUE—AND A SAILBOAT: A 14 ft., two-man British racing dinghy is available in do-it-yourself kit form to assemble and ready to paint. Easily built in about 200 hours, using the stitch-and-glue method, the Mirror 14 is said to be the fastest boat for its price on the market. Company says performance is equal to that of boats two or three feet longer. Mirror 14 has a 5'6" beam, and 3'7" draught, and carries 131 sq. ft of sail. It is fitted with a flexible alloy mast and red Dacron sails.

Mining News

SEAWAY REPORT: While some of our readers may feel the operations of the St. Lawrence Seaway have little to do with the mining industry, the Carr report emphasized the position of Iron Ore in relation to the overall operation. The following are some excerpts from this study:

Last January's report of the St. Lawrence Seaway could be a first step in a prolonged effort to ease the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority out of its debt-ridden position. Additional revenues are needed by the Crown corporation responsible for Canada's portion of the seaway, says the report. But it found that the United States is getting far too good a deal to ever agree to seaway toll increases.

The report was later tabled in the Commons by Transport Minister Jamieson, and represented two years of study by D.W. Carr and Associates Ltd., an Ottawa-based firm of economic consultants. It could be the first stage of an effort to jockey the U.S. into accepting a greater share of the seaway's capital costs and a lesser share of its operating revenue. It is clear that Canada will have a tough fight on its hands. The report concludes that those using the seaway are getting a tremendous bargain. As a result of public investment, transportation costs for grain and iron ore are lower now than they were in 1958, the last year before the seaway was opened. Americans, the study shows, use lower portions of the seaway almost as much as Canadians, though the U.S. paid only about one-sixth of the original investment in canals, locks and channel improvements. Deficits are distributed even more unequally, with Canada bearing 86% of the burden. The upper sections of the waterway, from Lake Erie north, are used predominantly by U.S. ships, though Canadian traffic could increase rapidly if western coal is shipped to Ontario in the future.

According to Carr, Canada should unilaterally increase tolls by 5% during each of the next five years. There is not much danger of losing business, the report says, because the iron ore and coal now shipped via the seaway route cannot use any other route. More care must be taken with grain, because it could be more readily moved to Pacific ports or through Churchill, Man. But the toll increases should be reviewed in 1973 at which time the government should be ready with an overall policy concerning the levels of public investment in transportation. The report says Canada should withdraw from the joint toll-setting agreement. The last toll agreement was negotiated in 1967. It expired last week.

Mr. Jamieson said tolls will remain at present levels for the next 12 months. This will provide time to negotiate with the Americans. But some Ottawa circles are wondering about the advisability of talking to Washington. Transportation Secretary John Volpe, they say, already has stated the U.S. would oppose toll increases. This fits well with U.S. tradition and recent actions. Americans always have followed the policy of toll-free inland water transport. Moreover, President Nixon recently signed the new U.S. Merchant Act which, among other things, wiped out the accumulated interest on American seaway debts. It also effectively froze toll rates at present levels.

Powerful lobbies in Canada and in the U.S. will be pressuring Ottawa to leave the tolls as they are. Shipping interests, the steel industry, pulp and paper producers, grain growers and other exporters will be arguing that higher tolls would be damaging to their various industries and self-defeating for the seaway. Not so, says Carr. Iron Ore from the Quebec-Labrador fields cannot be readily shipped to the Great Lakes basin in any other way. Sending it from Sept Iles to Atlantic ports and then inland by railway is impractical because the ships would not have any cargo for their return trips.

But Carr does not advocate charging what the traffic will bear. The report insists that even with the proposed toll increases, customers would still be getting a very good bargain. At the same time the higher levies would reduce the burden on Canadian taxpayers and provide more money for future seaway improvements. Left unspoken, though clearly implied in the report, is the charge that iron ore from American-owned mines moves in American ships to American steel mills, with Canadian taxpayers picking up part of the tab. For example, Carr says that in 1968 nearly 18 million tons of iron ore moved through the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the seaway, but only 2.5 million tons were unloaded at Canadian ports.

It cost 45c a ton in 1969 to ship iron ore from the lower St. Lawrence to Lake Erie ports. With the proposed increases the rate would be 47c a ton, including lockage fees on the Welland Canal. Carr estimates that tolls amount to 23.3% of transportation costs in the case of iron ore and 16.5% for wheat. Iron Ore, Carr says, is valued at $10 to $12 a ton in the Great Lakes region. The price is set by agreement based on rates prevailing at the Messabi range in Minnesota. Most iron ore mines are captive, owned by steel mills which they supply. But even merchant producers selling on the open market are anxious to sell in the Great Lakes region because the price is higher than in Europe or in Japan, the Carr study says.

The report recommends that: The seaway authority be forgiven its capital debt but that it repay accumulated interest. The debt on the Montreal-Lake Ontario section amounts to $334 million for principal; unpaid interest now stands at $64.2 million. Further recommending: Present capital loans be reduced to more appropriate levels. This means that $225 million borrowed for the Welland Canal bypass should not be fully charged to the seaway.

Most of the money was used to reroute roads and rail lines, which neither contribute to nor detract from the operation of the seaway as such.
