On the local scene

VISIT OF PREMIER SMALLWOOD, 29 MAY 1971. We attended the Public Meeting held at A.P. Low Auditorium Saturday evening 29 May. According to our "rough" count there were approximately 320 present. For nearly an hour it was "J.R.S." at his best. The usual repetition but interesting and entertaining. However when "O.L.F." started back to the "dirty thirties" with "empty stomach's," "lack of clothing", "no medical care", etc., it did become rather boring and I did notice about twenty young people leave. It was with a sigh of general relief, when after over 90 minutes, Mr. Smallwood took his seat.

But things did perk-up during the question period which followed. One thing I noticed in particular during the next hour was the remark or remarks made during every answer, to local problems: "I didn't know of this"; or "We heard nothing of this in the House of Assembly"; or "Do you have a representative in the Provincial Legislature." Of course these were obvious slights against the present M.H.A. for Labrador West. The "solution" to the school bus situation was strictly a political promise. The program is to come into effect 1 Nov. and a Provincial General Election will be held before that date. The idea of sending a three man delegation to St. John's (it ultimately turned out to be a one-man delegation Mr. K. Campbell) to discuss local communication problems with Canadian Transportation Commission, meeting in St. John's last week, seemed like a good idea. But how come our two elected representatives (Provincial and Federal were not invited to attend.

The answer to the final question of the meeting really made this writer boil. It was in regard to a Provincial Park. The answer; if a suitable location could be found for a park, the Park would be established "tomorrow". We recalled walking, around Duley Lake, with the then Minister of Mines, Agriculture & Resources, the late Hon. W. J. Keough and his Chief Park's Officer, Mr. George Chafe, on a cold, rainy day during the summer of 1964. And after looking over several other sites (by road and air), deciding that the Duley Lake area was the best spot to locate a Provincial Park. The following year a party from Crown Lands spent several weeks here, delineating the actual park area. Later in the year I was asked by the Minister to submit a name for the new park. My selection was "Sir Patrick McGrath Park", in memory of a great Newfoundland-lander who led our delegation at London during the Quebec-Nfld., (Labrador boundary dispute in the 1920's) which culminated in the award of 1927. During the 1966 session of the Legislature I was informed $10,000.00 had been allocated for work which would start that summer. Five years later the Premier says, "if a suitable location can be found." Oh yes! This is an election year.

PROVINCIAL POLITICS: With the conclusion of the stormy 5th, and final session of Newfoundland's 34th House of Assembly, the decks are cleared for the 1971 election. Here are the latest developments to press time: Liberals: Premier Smallwood has given his stamp of approval to Mr. Roy Legge (site manager at Churchill Falls and formerly Personnel Supervisor Wabush) as Liberal candidate for Labrador West. Reports have it Earl Windsor will divest himself of Labrador Affairs Portfolio and this post will be given Mr. Legge. An official announcement is expected before month end.

P.C.'s: The newest member of Provincial caucus will be in our area early next month. John Crosbie, former Liberal Reform Leader, is scheduled to address the annual meeting of P.C. Labrador West Assoc. on Friday 2 July. It is possible this will be the official "kick-off" of candidate Peter Walsh's campaign.

N.L.P.: Various business establishments in the area are being canvassed soliciting advertising to support a party newspaper. Rumor has it the Party will be contesting just two seats (Labrador West and Labrador North) in election '71. It is furthered rumored the sitting member for Labrador West, Thomas Burgess, may be seeking election in Labrador North.

MUNICIPAL NEWS: Aurora would like to pass on a bouquet to both towns following their annual spring clean-ups. The area looks to be in excellent shape.

We learn that L.C.-Wab. have engaged the services of a college student to assist in Fly Control this year.

According to L.C. Town Manager, Art. Rendell, the municipality will continue to accept requests for the disposal of unservicable vehicles. These will be picked-up as numbers warrant.

The fire-break water protection line, has been re-charged. Work on improving the Tanya Lake beach area will be carried out. The 1971 housing program has started; site preparations are well advanced: sidewalks are presently being installed on McParland; and work on 15 private building lots, should begin shortly. These together with an additional 102 company homes will constitute the housing program for Labrador City during 1971.

TAKE-OVER: We understand a statement on the rumored purchase of the oldest store in the area, by a large Canadian, Departmental Chain, will be made early next week. Reports have it, that if negotiations are finalized, the new owners will be taking over 1 July. Aurora learns that one of their first planned moves would be to start work immediately on doubling sales space.

APPOINTMENT: According to a press release from the office of Hon. Dr. F. W. Rowe, the Lieut.-Governor in Council has established a (25) member Youth Advisor Council. Mr. Roland Belliveau, Recreation Director, Labrador City, is a member of the Council. All appointments are for a period of three years. Under the Act, the Council has the responsibility of advising the Minister on all matters relating to recreation, sports, physical fitness and, in general, activities and programs designed for the benefit of the youth of the Province.

AND the Golfing season was officially opened. Mr. W. Campbell, Chairman of the Labrador City, Board of Trustees; teeing off.

Editorially Speaking

HOW MUCH ARE YOU WORTH? As we stated in our last editorial, because of the length of the L.A. Times Article, we split the subject matter over two weeks. In this edition the "Worksheet." Under the I OWN column, about the only problem you may have is with Real Estate (current market value). Of course this will not affect those who are renting. For those buying their homes it should not be too difficult to figure out your equity. For NET WORTH, the easiest way to cover Housing will probably be, merely to list your equity under the I OWN section and ignore the Real Estate Mortgage (Total amount owing) under the I OWE section. Go to it readers! And best of luck.

THE CLAIM: "I was in a train wreck," the gangster explained. "I collected fifty grand and my wife collected twentyfive grand." "How badly hurt was your wife?" asked the friend. "She wasn't hurt a bit. But even in the excitement of the wreck I had the presence of mind to kick her in the teeth."

Here and There

"RUGBY BARBAROUS", CHINESE TELL U.K.: The Chinese are refusing to export rugby balls to Britain because they think the game is barbarous and dangerous. The Chinese attitude toward one of Britain's oldest sports was revealed in a letter to Peter Spall, head of a sporting goods company near London.

Mr. Spall's firm imports Chinese soccer balls to Britain from a plant near Tientsin. While on a visit to the plant, he saw rugby balls being made, and placed an order for 2,000. But instead he received a letter from the factory saying: "As the game of rugby ball is one kind of very dangerous and sporting which is very often resulting in injury and or death to the people, this, such game is injurious to the health of the people, and is by no means to reach such purpose of promoting the health of mankind. For this reason we have stopped our production and will no longer supply," the letter said.

"Mr. Spall said: "It is quite obvious the Chinese are serious about their views on rugby. They tend to be very honest on their dealings and don't tell lies in their letters."

WORST EVIDENCE: Edouard Martin, who received a court summons in Broglie, France, for drunken driving, wrote to the judge in advance explaining he never drank but had taken some liquor because of tragedy in the family. Unfortunately, he gave the letter to his wife to mail. When it arrived, it included this postscript added by Mme. Martin: "What my husband writes is false. He is an inveterate drunkard." Result, one year in jail for the Frenchman.

NO NEGLECT OF ROADS IN LABRADOR: Highways Minister Harold Starkes told the Legislature recently that it cost $125,000.00 for snow clearing of roads in Southern Labrador this year.

Mr. Starkes gave the information during consideration of the $52.2 Million estimates for his department. He said the department did not neglect the 60-mile stretch of road between Red Bay and Lanse Eclair. If the department had twice the amount of equipment for snow clearing in the area, it still would have been impossible to keep the road open, he said. The road was closed for a number of weeks earlier this year because of impassible snow drifts.

YACHT COSTLY: The Queen's royal yacht Britannia has cost British taxpayers $20.4 million since the vessel was built in 1954, Parliament was told last month, in London. Sailors' pay, refits and running costs have devoured the cash, the defence joint undersecretary, Peter Kirk, said in the Commons. Britannia cost $4.8 million to build.

MANY CARS FAIL TEST: About 1,725,000 motor vehicles underwent safety checks in 1969 and more than half of them did not pass because of some malfunction, the Canada Safety Council says. There were some 8,250,000 motor vehicles registered in Canada that year, the last for which figures are available, the council said in a release urging drivers to have their vehicles safety checked before taking long summer trips. Faulty headlights were the single biggest reason for check failures, the council said. Other common reasons were faulty brakes, loose steering and defective tires.

WHISTLE-STOP TRANSFER: Women's liberation almost got a solid boost in traditional Sicily when three girls became Palermo station mistresses. But the wolf-whistling of male passengers became so great that authorities transferred the young ladies to country stations. "Oppression," cried liberation leaders and predicted the station mistresses will have more trouble in the country "where men are more dominant and sex-starved."

$100,000.00 FOR RESCUE OF P.O.W.: The Veterans of Foreign Wars, meeting recently in San Bernardino, Calif., has posted a $100,000.00 reward, more if the plan is right, for anyone who can rescue one American prisoner-of-war from Indochina. H.R. Rainwater, national V.F.W. commander, said the V.F.W. isn't fussy how it's done, (bribery, commando raids, or just about any other means) so long as the P.O.W. gets out. "If the plan was right we could go up to $1 million," he said.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Editor
 The Aurora
 Labrador City, Nfld.

Dear Sir:

In view of the latest visit of the leader of the Liberal Party I should think it is time that we reviewed the many benefits, that we do not get at present.

During the last ten or more lucrative years, our joint population has increased to over 13,000. We are now in an area with a population of over 13,000 with wage earning people with nowhere to go on a fine day, except Wabush people to Lab. City and visa-versa; which gets to be a bit of a drag after a time. We were promised a Provincial Park etc., etc., we still haven't got it.

Now get this! The old road between the two towns was built by both companies to get to the airport and was maintained by them; that cost them money. The present road, all four miles of it was built by the government out of your taxes and the companies saved. Both companies maintained small hospitals; the present hospital was built by the government and the companies save again.

"I would rather lose Labrador, etc., etc."; but when another large mining company in Quebec wanted a road, it is being built by our Government. It seems to me and the same idea is gradually seeping through many others that this government which used to style itself for "the toiling masses" is now more concerned about "the monied classes." I've been told by a "good" Liberal that the number of millionaires in the province has gone up 50 per cent in the last 15 years.

Another small item which shows government preference: The Mines Safety of Workmen Act, as everyone is aware is absolutely useless in this area. The Workmans Compensation Board Accident Prevention Regs. ancient and outmoded as many of them are, would be at least some benefit to the workers of this area, but the mining companies (especially at least one in this area), didn't want them, and the government as usual gave in.

We need, in this area, summer roads to get out of town fishing, berrypicking or just picnicing. The Blueberry Hill, Moosehead Lake area is one of the better places which could combine all three. There are a couple of miles of decent road around the hill, but the road from Javelin road, needs to be fixed up a bit and a proper railroad crossing installed.

How about it, companies? Government?

Yours,
 W. J. S.

HURRY FOR OLYMPICS RESERVATIONS: For the 1972 summer Olympics (5 Aug. - 11 Sept., in Munich), tickets and accommodation should be ordered before 30 June 1971. Confirmation of requirements will come in late summer.

To do this, contact a travel agent or ticket office of Air Canada, which has an exclusive appointment to handle these sales for the Olympic Committee. It is expected some 5,000 Canadians will attend the games.

WINE AND DINE IN LONDON: For anyone short of time (and hungry) there's a new way to see London. J. Lyons & Co., the restaurant and tea-blending firm, has a gourmet bus tour leaving daily, except Mondays, which for $24.00 and three hours of your time, tours the town while a three-course meal is served with claret. Unlimited champagne is on tap from the moment you sit down. Departure time, naturally, are keyed to lunch, dinner and midnight supper.

RENTING IN EUROPE: To rent a chateau in France or a flat in London for any reasonable length of time, one good place to look is in the directory of available homes put out by the Home Exchange Service of Pan American Airways (663 Fifth Ave., New York, 10022). Original idea was to enable families on both sides of the Atlantic to swap residences, but leasing your own home is not essential. New directory is now out and costs $6.00. Homes are also available in Belgium, Germany, Holland, U.S. and other countries.

MONTREAL CRUISES: There will be a total of 26 cruise departures from Montreal this season; 23 of them week-long voyages to the Saguenay and St. Pierre, Miquelon; two mini-cruises over the Labor Day weekend, and a 12-day cruise to Bermuda. These will be operated in three specially chartered vessels by S.S. Gala Navigation, of Montreal. There will also be a special reservations are available from any travel agent.

AIR TRAVEL BARGAINS: The 1971 edition of Air Travel Bargains, published in the U.S., by Simon & Schuster Inc. now is available from author Jim Woodman for U.S. $2.95 (post-paid), and at some airport book stores. The 320-page guide has all the new fares to Europe which went into effect this spring. It not only lists the bargains, but is a good reference in which to find which airlines serve different areas. Order by mail from P. O. Box 543, Coconut Grove, Florida 33133.

MIAMI LISTS FIESTA PROGRAM: Visitors and residents will find the Greater Miami Summer Fiesta a time of enjoyment for all with hundreds of things to see and do. Concerts, art shows, beauty pageants, sports and expositions make up some of the June through 30 Sept. events listed in the Greater Miami Calendar of Events, Late Spring and Summer 1971.

Throughout the summer, the stadium is the site of monthly outboard and inboard regattas. The Greater Miami Philharmonic uses the Marine Stadium for its summer evening concerts. Joining the orchestra this season are guest conductors Mitch Miller, June 26, July 3 and 17; David Rose, July 31, and Arthur Fiedler Aug. 21 and 28. Summer time is beauty in Greater Miami with the Miss U.S.A. Pageant and the Miss Universe competition.

MINING PERFORMS ROLE AS A NATION BUILDER

By Fraser Robertson

Go west and grow up with the country, Horace Greeley told young Americans when the United States was in the midst of 19th century expansion. Go north, and build a city, Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau has challenged today's young Canadians. There is quite a difference between those two pieces of advice. Greeley drew attention to a lifetime task, to the development of a latent inheritance, which would be passed on, as it has been. What would keep a city in the wilderness going, after it was built?

Possibly the Prime Minister has been studying the life of Le Roi de Soleil, Louis XIV of France, and proposes to move himself and his entourage far from the maddening mob. That monarch found that by creating and moving to Versailles and leaving working ministers behind, it became very difficult for the latter to hand in their resignations, since access to the seat of power was by invitation only.

The form of the Prime Minister's challenge to youth was, however, of considerable significance, and something of that significance was pointed out this week by Dr. John Deutsch, one of Canada's most respected economists and in addition a man who has a rare ability to see the nation as a whole. In an address to the Ontario Mining Association, and without any apparent reference to the Prime Minister's statement to youth, Dr. Deutsch noted the false importance frequently attached to cities nowadays.

In areas where there is a combination of high investment and high technology, Dr. Deutsch pointed out, the trend has been to centralization in large urban centres. That is where growth also appears to be concentrated—certainly in terms of population and frequently in money terms. There is more than that to national economics, however; much more.

Initially, he reminded his audience, it was the development of agriculture that spread people throughout Canada and justified the beginnings of cities. What economists call the infrastructure, that is, roads, railways and the extension of all kinds of business service activities, developed. That was the kind of activity Horace Greeley was writing about. In more recent years, agriculture has reversed its course and now sends youth to the cities. Perhaps the last major area opened up by agriculture was the Peace River district.

All this suggests to me that it is a pity Canadians often do not seem to know much of their own country's history, of the sources of growth. Neither, it may be recalled, did French kings know much about activities outside their palaces and we know how fatal that deficiency became.

It rather surprised me that Dr. Deutsch did not mention, in this connection, Canada's forest industries. But he was addressing the mining industry and he noted that at a later stage in our history it joined agriculture in opening new parts of Canada to rewarding human activity, to creation of a larger and stronger infrastructure.

Just as a business, when it grows, has to develop its own infrastructure of management and service, which creates "overhead" costs, the national infrastructure creates overhead expenses. Who carries this COURT NEWS: Magistrate M. Rowe has recently returned from a holiday in the U.K. Several members of local R.C.M.P. detachments will be leaving here in the near future, including Sgt. Mullaly, Const. B. MacDonald, and Const. Yetter. All are being transferred to Western Newfoundland. We understand the new C.O. of the local detachment will be coming from Eastern Nfld.

After a period of comparative quiet, it seems the shop-lifters are back at work. This week a number of local residents will be charged. A bench warrant was issued, last week-end, against an island resident working in this area, for non-support. Upon failure to appear, he was arrested by R.C.M.P. and was placed in the local "cooler."

It seems, that following a number of complaints, the R.C.M.P. will be keeping a closer check on Duley Lake area. Recently four cyclist driving abreast, were nearly involved in a serious accident when a car, met them head-on, at sunset. There have also been numerous reports of many local motorist's using the side of this road as a dump. This is not permitted and charges may be forthcoming.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL: Belated birthday greetings to Gordon Sooley Jr. who was two years old on May 27th. Greetings come from mommy and daddy and nanny and poppy Sooley, Labrador City.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sooley who celebrated their wedding anniversary on 6 June.

A TICKET 'GROWS' ON AN EXECUTIVE: The following story, from Portland, Oregon, should be of interest to anyone who ever got a parking ticket. Names are withheld in the story to protect the innocent.

It happened to a Portland executive who found an overtime parking ticket on his windshield. He put it in the inside chest pocket of his suit jacket. Eight days later, he noted the ticket in the pocket. He knew that if it was not paid within seven days, the $2.00 fine would be doubled. He took the ticket to work, made out a cheque to the Municipal Court, attached it to the ticket and gave it to his secretary to mail.

Another week went by and the man got a form letter from the police, advising that, if he did not pay the fine, a warrant for his arrest would be issued. The man phoned the police to say he had paid the fine with a cheque for $4.00 because the ticket had lapsed into the penalty period. He was told there was no record of payment and he would have to produce the cancelled cheque.

He called his bank, no cancelled cheque. So he retraced his steps and discovered that his secretary had mailed the cheque to the county courthouse, not the city. There, along with hundreds of incoming letters, it wound up in the child-support department because a clerk there had seen the name on the cheque and had matched it with one on the child-support rolls. The county had sent a cheque in the amount of $4.00 to the man's former wife and had marked it child support. The former wife called the county and asked what was going on—the child-support money was supposed to be $150.00.

The man who had sent in the cheque for the parking ticket also had ordered a certified cheque sent for child support. His bank had a record of his calling to process the cheque, but there was no record that the bank ever had sent the certified cheque.

Personal cheques are not acceptable in child-support matters. That is why the mistake on the $4.00 was baffling. Meanwhile, the police warned the man that he would be arrested and jailed and his automobile impounded. His over-parking ticket subsequent fines for non-payment had reached the amount of $27.00. Finally, the $4.00 cheque showed up in his account. The county had processed it, but had not endorsed it.

He took it, with all the cancelled mail, involved in his problems to an official of the county court. The court official listened, said it was sad, but technically and legally he was the victim of circumstances. However the court official said he knew an official in the Municipal Court and he would call the strange chain of circumstances to his attention.

The city official called back a few hours after hearing the story. The county court official said the man with the city told him he had done something he had never done in his career—destroyed all the evidence, "so tell the guy to forget the parking ticket."

The former wife got to keep the extra $4.00.

HALF TOP CIVIL SERVANT UNNEEDED: Paul Hellyer, former transport minister in

Prime Minister Trudeau's cabinet, says "probably 50 per cent" of the top two or three echelons of the public service should be replaced. While many of the top public servants were well-motivated and brilliant, "some of them have been in Ottawa for 30 years and you get out of touch with what is going on in the real world."

Mr. Hellyer, M.P. for Toronto Trinity, resigned from the cabinet two years ago after unsuccessfully urging government approval of his proposals on housing policy. He made his remarks recently on a C.T.V. program.

He said there are "too many theorists" both in the cabinet and public service, "too many people who have been away from their place of birth and...ordinary people too long and I think there should be more turn-over." Mr. Hellyer said the "Liberal elite" tends to inflict its point of view of society, "often not realizing what the real needs and aspirations of many less privileged members of society really are."

He suggested that a smaller proportion of economic resources be spent by the government, to enable lower taxes that would allow individuals greater choice in their own spending. The government is "if not anti-industry at least unsympathetic, in the sense of co-operating the way, for example, the Japanese co-operate between their government and their industry. "The ongoing bureaucratic machine exercises more power than any other group and in my opinion too much power."

He said speeding up the economy would permit greater control over foreign investment without sacrificing jobs. In the present economic slack, he sympathized with provincial premiers who sought investment capital in the United States.

SINGLE GIRLS MORE STABLE THAN MARRIED SISTERS: The real sex revolution, where women are concerned, has nothing to do with the birth control pill, contraceptive injections lasting a month—or free love. What it has to do with: admitting that sexual relations are not always that great. Among some women, mainly radical and militant women liberators, even the benefits of celibacy are discussed seriously. This view of the latest sex revolution, female style, comes from Dr. Jessie Bernard, who aired it during a discussion of "changing lifestyles for women."

It happened at the annual meeting of the American Home Economics Association. Dr. Bernard, a former professor of sociology at Pennsylvania State University, is a member of the advisory committee on uniform marriage and divorce legislation of the National Commission on Uniform State Legislation.

A report of her views of the forces changing contemporary women appeared in a recent issue of Journal of Home Economics, the association's official publication. Although there is nothing to indicate that Dr. Bernard belong to the ranks of the militant bra burners in women's lib., she tends to sound like the most radical of the outspoken women's crusaders. She says some of the radical views aren't without foundation in fact, as she knows from her studies of lifestyles through the years. She notes that the women's lib. leaders are trying to free women from the compulsion to marry by rejecting the "better dead than unwed" doctrine which makes females feel like flops if they don't marry.

"As a matter of fact, marriage as it now is structured...while it could hardly be better for men, is really not all that good for women," Dr. Bernard said. (She's working on a book to be titled—"The Future of Marriage.") She said more married women as compared to single women are depressed, passive, phobic, and though the number is not large, more show psychosomatic symptoms.

"The fact that women are willing to pay this price for marriage shows that they need and want it, but does it have to have such a negative effect on them," Dr. Bernard asks. "Can we devise ways of structuring marriage which would not impose such disabilities on them?" The sociologist said some students of marriage have even suggested that "we make women sick and socialize them into poor mental health in order to make them happy and fit them into marriage it is now structured."

Mining News

economic load? Not manufacturing, Dr. Deutsch pointed out, for it always has required protection, subsidies, and so forth. It largely is carried these days by mining. For example, the railways north from Edmonton and Winnipeg initially were built to serve agriculture, to carry supplies in, production out. It was the mining industry that brought about their extension. In Labrador, mining created railways into the interior.

Mining, interpreted broadly, includes finding and producing oil and gas. The whole industry demands for ever-more services of ever-growing value are what support a large part of city activities. It has pioneered, and still does pioneer, in finding out how life can be supported and improved in new and difficult environments. Without waiting upon an invitation, indeed, despite a growing governmental tendency to create impediments, it has performed a transcendent role as a nation builder and in support of national economic growth. (Reprinted from The Globe and Mail).

The Bible Today

"Take it away. I don't want it. It's an evil book," said an angry Bolivian businessman to the Scripture distributor who stood at his door.

On an impulse, the distributor responded, not in Spanish but in an Indian language, Quechua, which turned out to be the businessman's mother tongue. This established immediate rapport between the two men, and eventually led to the purchase of a Bible.

Not wanting his wife to discover what he had done, the businessman got up each day before dawn and read the Bible by the light of a candle. One morning he found his wife waiting in the darkness. "What are you doing up so early?" she asked. "I want to read too," she replied. So together they studied God's Word and eventually decided to become Christians.

One of the newest Bible translations distributed in Bolivia is the Gospel of Mark in popular Quechua. It carries the text in the Quechua language and in Spanish from the Bible Society's Spanish Version Popular.

The lighter side

PARIS IS DIFFERENT: A fellow was planning to spend a month's vacation in Europe. He spent the first week in London, the second week in Copenhagen, and the third week in Berlin. Then he went to Paris but after twenty four hours, he flew home. When his friends asked about it, he said, "They always told me, 'When in Rome, do as the Romans do.' When I found out what the French men do, I came on home."

SELF CONTROL: Fenwick suddenly planted his nineteenth highball on the bar, reeled dizzily across the saloon, and collapsed unconscious in a heap at the door. "That's the best thing about good old Renwick's drinking," chirped a crony in admiration. "He always knows when to stop."

TWO WHEELER: Two tramps came upon a motorcycle with a sidecar. In an instant one of them leaped onto the seat, the other leaped into the sidecar, and off they sped. They drove for fifteen minutes, and then the driver saw his pal's face turning brick red.

"What's the matter you?" he called to him.
 "No bottom in this thing," gasped the other. "I've had to run all the way!"

JACKMAN MEMORIAL HOSPITAL LADIES AUXILIARY MAY REPORT

On May 24 about sixty members and guests of the hospital Ladies Auxiliary met in the hospital cafeteria for a "pot luck" supper. All enjoyed sampling the many tempting dishes which members had brought.

A brief business meeting followed. It was noted that Mrs. D. Archer, who has been a faithful worker on the Tuck Cart, was leaving Labrador City. The president also drew the attention of the members to a generous gift of children's books by Mrs. B. Pardy to the Pediatric Ward. Special thanks were extended to Mrs. Dulie Jenkins who made about thirty corsages which were presented to all women patients in the hospital on Mother's Day. It was noted that Mrs. Jenkins had spent considerable time in the making of these flowers - made from paper thin sheets of cellulose wood fibre.

The Hospital Auxiliary has added another project to their endeavours to be of service to the hospital and the community at large. Mrs. C. Knoke is convenor of a group of volunteers who are assisting Mrs. K. Armstrong, the Public Health nurse, with the 'Well-Baby' Clinic. Mrs. Knoke also has plans to expand her committee to give assistance to the "special class" for handicapped children. They will also assist the public health nurse with the sight clinics which are held twice yearly. For this committee four volunteers are needed who are able to give a half day per week either morning or afternoon on a reliable basis. Mrs. Knoke stressed that she must have volunteers on whom she could depend regularly from week to week. If you are interested in this type of community service, contact Mrs. Knoke at 944-5015 for further information.

Mrs. I. Tilburn, program convenor, presented a film on the development of Wabush Mines and the town of Wabush as a conclusion to the evening. This is an excellent film which left one with the feeling that we are all part of a very exciting plan to develop the North and are pioneers in a modern age.

Although the hospital auxiliary will not meet again until the fall, the Tuck Cart and Library Cart will operate during the summer. For those members going on vacation who like to knit, do get some wool from one of the Home Convenors, Mrs. G. Lemke or Mrs. A. Preston.

The executive of the hospital auxiliary hopes that everyone will have a happy, healthy summer.

Special thanks to The Ashuanipi Social Club, The Lions Club, United Steelworkers of America, Labrador City, Memorial University Alumni Association, Labrador City, The Newfoundland Drama Society, The Iron Ore Company of Canada, The Recreation Department, Wabush, The Town of Labrador City, and Canadian Exchange Division of the Department of the Secretary of State, Ottawa, for their very generous contributions.

Yours sincerely,
D.A. Matthews,
For the Carol Players.

U.C.W.A.

All members and adherents and their families of Carol United Church, Labrador City, are invited to attend a congregational Dinner on Sunday, June 13, at 5:30 p.m. This will take the form of a "Pot Luck" supper, to which members are asked to bring a casserole or meat dish, sufficient for their family. As this is to be a farewell tribute to the Rev. Wm. Mayberry and his family, it is hoped that all will make an effort to attend.

On Monday Evening, May 31, members of the U.C.W. of Carol United Church, and invited guests enjoyed a delicious pot Luck supper, held in the Church basement.

The President Mrs. T.D. Evans extended a warm welcome to all present and gave a review of the activities of the Ladies during the past months.

In January the U.C.W. provided a supper to which all members of the congregation were invited. This supper was given as a token of the appreciation of the ladies for the help given from time to time by members of the congregation. February to March was talent month. Each member was given a dollar and could use her own talents to make it grow.

On March 5, the Ladies took part in a World day of Prayer service, which was held at the Carol United Church.

On April 3 a Bakesale was held in Bowrings basement and on May 8 a Strawberry tea and Hayward and Mallish, mix it up during their recent bout at the L.C. Arena. Hayward won the decision.

Children's Fashion show was enjoyed by all who attended. During these months the ladies also catered to a number of weddings and also a large banquet for the Minor Hockey - Association.

One of the most interesting projects taken on by the U.C.W. this year was the adoption of Cartwright as their Mission Outreach. Clothing has been collected and sorted by the ladies and been sent out to Cartwright. During Easter Mrs. Nancy Foerstel went to Cartwright as a representative of the group to learn of how the ladies could be of assistance to the people there. On her return Mrs. Foerstel gave an interesting review of the events of her trip and slides were shown by Mr. Foerstel, who accompanied her. At the May Meeting the ladies decided to send fifty dollars to the Year Book Staff of the Cartwright School.

On Sunday evening June 13, at 5:30 P.M. the U.C.W. in conjunction with the Board of Stewarts and the Board of Management will hold a congregational dinner. At this time Mr. Royden Mills will be in charge of the worship service and the U.C.W. will make arrangements for the dinner. The evening will be a farewell tribute to Rev. and Mrs. Mayberry and Family who will be leaving the end of June to take up residence in Corner Brook Nfld.

At this final meeting of the U.C.W. for the season, plans were formulated for the Christmas Bazaar. Convenors were appointed. Mrs. Beryl MacEachern stated she now has a supply of wool on hand and anyone wishing to knit or crochet items may have the wool by contacting Mrs. MacEachern at 944-5480. Anyone leaving the area during the summer is requested to donate any items that might be used at the White Elephant Table. Costume jewelry or Childrens toys or games are the type of items required. Please contact Mrs. Francine Pangras at 944-5755.

The President made a request that members of the Congregation call at the Church kitchen to pick up their dishes left after the supper.

The evening ended with Movies being shown.
