AN IDEA FOR CHRISTMAS

EDITORIAL

We would venture to say that Christmas in Labrador City and Wabush can hardly be surpassed as a time of happiness and enjoyment by any other town in Canada.

Quite soon now, decorations so carefully stored away at the beginning of the year will transform our houses, lawns and trees into colourful, glittering tableaux; welcoming out-of-town visitors and warming the coldest Labrador night. Many parties and other activities have been planned by the various organizations and clubs in the area and perhaps the only thing we lack for this holiday period is a parade -

A SANTA CLAUS PARADE

....true we have had our Santa Claus for the past few years, but purely and simply through the efforts of one or two of our store managers.

This year the stores are again leading the way by bringing Santa to our town - but they would like to have a parade to welcome him. Surely there are enough stores and organizations here to make up an excellent parade!

How about it Labrador City? Perhaps there are some children in town who have never seen a Santa Claus Parade!

Let's give them one - one to remember!

IF YOUR STORE, CLUB OR ORGANIZATION WOULD LIKE TO ENTER A FLOAT, PLEASE CONTACT THE CAROL NEWS..944/3334

JEFFREY LLOYD COOL

baby son of Lloyd and Gwen Cool, of Labrador City.

Pastor and Mrs B.H.Hartwell arrived back in Labrador City after spending a very pleasant holiday with Mrs Hartwell's sister in Burlington, Ontario. Although the weather was very bad during their two weeks stay they both enjoyed the change and a well earned rest.

.....

.....

Lucky winner of the beautiful Children's Toy Farm Set, made and donated to the Anglican Women's Guild by Mr Bob Anderson was MR.DONALD PERRY, janitor at the J.R.Smallwood Collegiate. Although Mr.Perry's large family is now quite out of the toy stage, his grandchildren will appreciate it I'm sure.

tribute to progress

Labrador City

The twin towns of Wabush and Labrador City spread in orderly format across a barren corner of Labrador in tribute to the imagination, courage, fortitude and hard work of a band of devoted Canadians who carved a crude mining camp from forbidding wilderness — and then systematically turned their mining camp into modern, progressive communities which today contribute, in disproportionate share to their small size, to the welfare and development of Newfoundland.

Confidence is a common ingredient in the psychological makeup of the twin towns residents . . . a confidence born of past achievements and dedicated to even greater future accomplishments.

Pride, too, is a dominant characteristic . . . a fierce yet quiet pride that paces the fast tempo of growth and forward motion of these model communities.

Justifiably and in very large measure, Eastern Provincial Airways shares with the people of Wabush and Labrador City their pride and confidence. EPA's bushline and mainline air services have been significant factors in social growth and community development from the very inception of the two towns. And over the years EPA air crews and aircraft have flown millions of passenger miles and millions of cargo-ton miles in maintaining "the lifeline to Labrador" from Newfoundland and from the Maritimes.

The future for Wabush and Labrador City is bright with new challenge, and EPA is pledged to contribute in every way possible to meeting — and conquering — that challenge.

A NEW FRIEND

A new friend often seems to wear a halo round his head. All the things that he has done and all that he has said, are new to you and interesting; his presence cannot pall, your eyes, that see his virtues, turn from faults, however small.

But let's be fair, no angels tread this common earth below, a hero still is human, as a lapse of time will show. And if the halo that he wears has grown a trifle dim, remember you invented it, so don't blame him.

Kathleen Partridge.
